Bi-State to Get ICC 'Green Light' On Parks Airport

The Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington was expected to give the "green light" today for the Bi-State Development Agency to proceed with development of Parks airport at Cahokia.

The action will remove all legal impediments to actions approved by the Bi-State commissioners at November and December meetings, according to Col. R. E. Smyser Jr.

The general counsel for the agency was informed that the ICC action is due in a phone call received this morning, Smyser said.

The agency was faced with a Dec. 31 expiration date on land acquired for ground needed for excavating and improving the airport.

Delay in purchase of the land, valued at about $40,000, was decided by Bi-State commissioners after learning that formal approval of the sale of $170,000 in revenue bonds was still under review by the ICC.

The federal agency was expected to approve the sale today, Smyser last week was given authority by the Bi-State commissioners to execute the purchase option on the land.

The executive director said the agency still has several months to complete transactions for the purchase of 526 acres owned by Indiana National Homes Inc.

The airport is located off of Route 3 near Cahokia in St. Clair county and is to serve as a secondary air terminal for the metropolitan area.

Moerlein and Johnson Issue Statement

Water and Air Pollution Matters to be Proposed Tonight

Water pollution and air pollution are expected to be major topics of tonight's Granite City council session.

Alphonse Charles Moerlein and For Johnson, two members of the Special Pollution Abatement committee, issued a statement over the weekend concerning money-saving factors in use of alternatives in construction of the sewage treatment plant at which construction is expected to start today at the Army Depot.

Samuel Whitman, chairman of the Special Air Pollution Study committee, announced last week following the receipt of several house paint stain complaints that he would seek permission tonight to enter into a $6000-to-$8000 contract with a St. Louis chemical engineer to determine the cause of the paint stains. "We want to start Jan. 1, instead of next March," Whitman said.

In their statement, Moerlein and Johnson said: "The Special Pollution Abatement committee of the city council would appreciate letting the taxpayers of Granite City know its position with respect to certain alternatives we wished to have considered that have the possibility of reducing the cost of the sewage treatment plant to the amount of $38,150.

"In this endeavor, the committee has been hindered and obstructed in every conceivable manner by Mayor Davis and certain members of the city council. An amazing example is the considering of the alternate for filter equipment. This committee sought information from experienced sewage treatment plant operators, men who do not build a treatment plant and move on, but from men with years of experience in treating plant operation, men who must live with the equipment and struggle for efficient and economical plant operation.

"This committee personally visited 10 sewage treatment plants. We personally solicited their daily and yearly operating records when they were available.

"We refused to accept hypothetical charts and records of the manufacturers, designed to promote their product and show the competitor at a disadvantage. The Komline-Sanderson firm has been evasive to this committee in submitting actual plant operating records.

"On a visit to the Komline-Sanderson installation at Indianapolis, Ind., the superintendent furnished a yearly and daily record of the plant's operation. The cost of about $400 for a 20-year period would be more than $60,000. The Special Pollution Abatement committee is seeking to have the data verified by local industrial engineers.

Davis Supports Engineer. Mayor Davis said Tuesday night he would accept only the alternatives approved by the project engineer. The engineer, Edward J. Schaub, has stated repeatedly his firm believes the $27,700 difference. The committee questions the justification for the excess cost.

"In face of all this sincere effort, Mayor Davis has, without the approval of the city council, instructed the contractor to disregard the alternatives and order the material listed in the bid. In doing this he also does not follow the recommendations of the engineers," Moerlein and Johnson concluded.

It was pointed out that when the contract was awarded to the Clyde Nelson Construction Co. on its low bid base that the alternatives still could be given consideration.

Both Have One-Year Warranty. "Of the filtering systems, Komline-Sanderson and the Elanco Corp. each have a one-year warranty on all major apparatuses for defective materials or workmanship.

"Komline-Sanderson mentions a cost of about $400 for a 20-year period. The eventual replacement of the coil spring filters.

Komline-Sanderson equipment costs $131,100, while Elanco filters cost $103,400, for a

Indianapolis plant was put in operation Feb. 2, 1958, and in five years of operation they have had so many broken coil spring filters, that they built into their plant a broken coil spring catcher. Question — What will Granite City have to contend with in 20 years?

The committee has found excellent satisfaction with the services of the Elanco Corp. lower cost filter system which uses a plastic cloth media. We also requested and received unbiased advice from very competent local industrial engineers and we have followed the advice honestly.

SETTLING BASINS built into Horseshoe Lake as part of Granite City Steel Co. sewage treatment facilities are outlined in this aerial photograph by earthen and slag dikes with a view of the company's blast furnace plant in the upper right background. The photo was taken looking southwest. The steel company's multi-million dollar sewerage project covers 512 acres, mostly within the lake, and is expected to be put into operation about Jan. 1. The earth dikes extend into the lake 300 feet from the east shore. Industrial wastes will be purified in the basins before entering the lake. 2 Crashes Christmas Morning Involve 5 Cars

Two accidents were reported early Christmas morning at 1:15 a.m. on East 25th street and at 4:10 a.m. in the 1200 block of Edwardsville road.

In the 1:15 mishap, Stanley Huffman, 1620 Clark avenue, was backing his auto and hit a parked auto belonging to George Gordon, 2333 East 25th street.

At 4:10 a.m. Keith Frye of Alton was driving north and struck a parked auto belonging to Chester Spencer, 808 Lee avenue, Madison, knocking it into an auto parked in a driveway and belonging to W. C. White, 1228 Edwardsville road. Frye was charged with careless driving.

Gerardine Pearson, 44, of 111 Slough road, Venice, was arrested by Venice police in the Robins Next Tavern at 11:45 p.m. Friday and charged with carrying a concealed weapon—a .28 caliber revolver. Police said she was called to the tavern where they were told the woman had taken the patrons out.

Pontoon Road Crash

The westbound auto of Byron Snider, 3117 Willow avenue, skidded last night in the 1500 block on Pontoon road as he applied his brakes for a stop sign and it crashed into the eastbound auto of Morris Wolfe of Edwardsville. No one was injured.

Damaged on Bridge

Circuit Court Settings For 1965 are Announced

Jury trials will be held in Madison county circuit court during each month in 1965 except for the vacation months of July and August, according to the court calendars prepared by Willard Portig, clerk of the circuit court.

Jury trials will be held the first and second weeks of each month on non-jury trials will be set the third week in each month, including the vacation months. The fourth week will be reserved for adjournment and preparation.

Special settings are listed for the last weeks, or fifth weeks, in March, May, August and November. General settings will be held in all case assignments made at the courthouse at Edwardsville in courtroom one.

Beginning Jan. 4, jury cases called but not reached last Dec. 7 and those cases previously set for the same date will be heard. During the week of Jan. 11, cases previously set for Dec. 14 will be heard, with a pre-hearing call on them scheduled for Friday, Jan. 8, at 11:30 a.m.

GC Steel Boosts Price Of Galvanized Products

Granite City Steel Co. joined other steel firms late last week in announcing an increase in base prices for galvanized flat and formed sheets and galvanized culvert sheets by 20 cents per 100 pounds, or $8 a ton, effective at midnight Christmas Day.

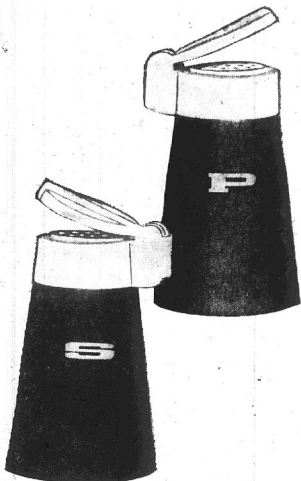

John A. Leschen, vice-president for sales, said the increase would compensate for only a part of the added costs of production resulting from higher prices for zinc coating and manufacturing processes. He said that the higher bases prices combined with the lower extras to be charged for wider sheet widths, would result in an overall price increase of less than 3-1/2%.

Crash on Slick Overpass

No one was injured in an auto accident on an icy overpass at By-Pass 66 and Route 203 at 12:15 p.m. Friday when cars driven by Mury Ketterbach, Danforth, Mo., and Susan Hoorman, Collinsville, collided. The Hoorman car slid and struck a guard rail while the other also slid and struck the first vehicle in the left rear. It then jumped the divider strip and came to a halt in the west-bound lane.

Fourth Annual Event Opens Tomorrow

Warriors Hope to Oust Sterling As Champion of Holiday Tourney

Defending champion Sterling and Champion, returning after not competing in last year's Granite City Invitational Holiday wrestling tournament, rank with the host team as favorites of the fourth annual meet tomorrow and Wednesday.

Bill "Red" Schmitt, the Granite City coach, tabbed the northern schools as the "two to beat" among the eight visiting teams. Other entries are Wood River, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Jacksonville, Bethalto and Carbondale.

The latter two are entering for the first time and, along with Champion, replace Springfield, Lanphier, Belleville and Quincy, which do not return. Sterling won the 1963 affair with 122 points to runner-up Granite City's 83 and went on to finish second in the state tourney at Evanston.

The time schedule for the tourney, to be held at the GCHS gymnasium: First session, 1:30 p.m. tomorrow; second session, 7:30 p.m. tomorrow; third session, 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, and finals, 7 p.m. Wednesday. The tournament is double-elimination.

3 Champs Return
Returning will be three athletes who won individual championships last year. They are: Cord Alexander of Edwardsville, who won at 95 pounds, Granite City's Rich Bledsoe, 112 pounds, and Ray Morgan of Sterling, 138. This time Alexander is entered at 103, Bledsoe at 127 and Morgan at 138.

Bledsoe, however, is a doubtful participant due to an ear injury. He missed last Wednesday's match as the Warriors lost to Mohave, Mo., ending a streak of 133 consecutive wins against Missouri and downstate Illinois schools.

He is among four Warriors who are undefeated this season, owning a 9-0 record. Steve Cavanaugh (112) and Rich Grizzard (133) have also won nine times but each has one draw. Bill Fuchs (95) has an unblemished record in six outings.

Heavyweight John Evenden, Jim Valicoff and Gary Forshee also have outstanding records (see statistics below). As a team the Warriors have 81 wins, 31 losses and nine draws in individual bouts resulting in two quadrangular championships and a 5-1 record in dual meets.

Two Runners-Up Back
Also back for competition will be Granite City's Mike Reynolds, the runner-up at 95 pounds in 1963, and East St. Louis' Wayne Nave, who finished second at 165. Nave remains at the same weight but Reynolds will be at 103 this year.

Before Sterling won last year's meet, the GCHS team had won four straight holiday tourneys—the first two held here and two at University High in Normal the previous two years. The Warriors set the scoring record for their tourney with 127 in 1962.

Alexander posted the most victories (6) last year and Dan Wagoner of Sterling won the trophy for the most pins (5). Kraft, who has graduated, set a tournament record with a 16-second pin and a scoring record with 20 team points.

Team points are scored this way: 10 for first place in each weight class; seven for second place; four for third place; one for each match won by fall, decision or forfeit; and one point for each match won in both the preliminary and final rounds.

Little-Known Cage Stars Twinkle Brightly As College Standouts

Knee Injury Sidelines Tom Turner, Rochester Ace, But Future Bright

Several former local high school basketball players are making their marks in the college cage ranks these days. Most Quad-City sports fans know that Don Freeman of Madison is burning up the nets for the University of Illinois and that Granite City's George Moore, when eligible, looks like a good bet to star for the University of Missouri.

There are others, however, who are doing well with less publicity. Mick Gravelle (Madison) is also a member of the Illini squad. Two members of last year's MHS team are starting at small schools—Cecil Bell at Canton (Ill.) Junior College and John "Champ" Summers at Nichols (La.) State. Carl and Larry Wortham (Granite City) and Calvin Dixon (Lincoln) are with the Sanford-Brown team in St. Louis and two GCIS grads, Larry Lilley and Elton Hall, are on the freshman team at Murray (Ky.) State.

And there's Thomas Hall (Lincoln) at Texas College and Frank Knight (Granite City) at Butler. But few have had the tremendous, if little-known, success former Lincoln ace Tony Turner has had at Rochester (Minn.) Junior College.

Turner, who'll be 19 Nov. Year's Eve, reached the height of his career by scoring 47 points in a recent game at a New York Junior college. It was a school record and Turner would have been elated except for one fact—the game he ran into a wall and suffered a serious knee injury.

Now spending the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Brown, 1025 Calhoun street, Madison, Turner expects the injury will keep him on the sidelines for the rest of the season. His coach, Joe Rokenback, is disappointed—his star has led Rochester to an 8-1 record in early-season play—but agrees that further play this year might threaten Turner's basketball future—and a bright one it is.

12 Scholarship Offers
"Tom has received 12 scholarships and grants for his first two years of college," Rokenback says, "including ones from the universities of Minnesota and South Dakota."

Turner, confident that surgery will repair the knee damage and enable him to have a successful big-college career, told the Press-Record he leans toward South Dakota at the moment. He'd really like to attend Illinois where his old buddy Freeman plays and where an excellent engineering program is available, but so far no bids from the Illini.

The 6-1 jump-shot artist has broken every scoring record at Rochester J. C., while compiling a 27.3 per-game average in 45 games. He has scored over 70 points in 26 games and more than 40 in two contests, hitting 38% of his field goal shots.

Maintains "B" Average
According to his coach, Turner has a "B" average while majoring in engineering technology. "They should be higher," he admits. And he's done a bit of trail-blazing, too, at the school.

"It was the first Negro ever to attend the school," he said. "Now there are six Negroes, including three on the basketball team. I like it there real well—but those Minnesota winters are pretty cold."

Turner first attended Miami of Ohio but reported late and transferred when he found several engineering courses were no longer open. With the recommendation of Miami coaches, he went to Rochester and helped the team to a 22-6 record in his first season.

With an impressive record behind him and hopes of successful surgery ahead, the ex-Lincoln Rams' flash is looking toward success in college basketball's big time.

JUNIOR COLLEGE STAR Tom Turner hopes to play at a large university.

GC, Madison Open Tonight In Cage Meets

Both Granite City and Madison high schools participate in holiday basketball tournaments starting tonight.

The Fighting Warriors of Granite City meet the Blooming Trojans at 10 o'clock tonight in the final first round game of the 16-team Pontiac tournament, the 34th annual at that upstate community. The tournament began this morning.

If the Warriors win, they'll play at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow against the Pontiac-Rock Island All-American victor. If they lose, they'll meet the loser of that contest at 10 p.m. tomorrow.

Closer to home, the Madison Trojans will take on the Lincoln Tigers of East St. Louis at 7 o'clock tonight in the East St. Louis Senior high school tourney, which includes eight teams.

If the Trojans win tonight, the next opponent would be the Collinsville-Springfield winner with the game at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. Should the Trojans lose, they'll play the loser at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Today's complete schedule at East St. Louis: 1:30 p.m., East St. Louis vs. Springfield Panthers, 3 p.m., Litchfield vs. Quincy CBC, 7 p.m., Lincoln vs. Madison and 8:30 p.m., Collinsville vs. Springfield Griffin.

The losers play tomorrow afternoon, starting at 1:30 and 3, the winners tomorrow night at 7 and 8:30. Three games are slated Wednesday night—the third place contest at 6, the consolation final at 7:30 and the championship at 9.

Although his lineup is not set, coach Carl McCannahan is planning lineup changes tonight in an attempt to find "a winning combination." Not even leading scorers Paul Lusk (21.3 points a game) and Dale Turner (19.7) are definite starters, he said this morning.

Coach Andy Sullivan of the Warriors hopes to start aggressive Elmer Wortham, who has missed the last three games with an ankle-sprain injury. Other probable starters are Joe Grobowski, Terry Moore, Larry Ripka and Vince Debeve.

The Warriors left at noon today and will stay at the Downtown Motel in Pontiac. Other players making the trip are Jerry Lybarger, Virg Kambarian, Larry Dillard, Mike Pritchard, Patrick Moran, Mike Range and Bill O'Neill.

If the Warriors get as far as the semifinals, they'll probably be playing the Pekin Chicks, defending state champs and this season's No. 1-rated team. The meet ends Wednesday night.

The third Quad-City high school team, the Venice Red Devils, is not participating in a tournament.

Sanford-Brown's Wortham Goes for 2000th Point of Career Tonight

One thing about Carl Wortham, he's no leader. He doesn't have one to be.

He's a full-time husband and father, a full-time steel worker, a full-time college student and a full-time basketball player. About the only thing the 22-year-old does part-time is play pool, racketing the stripes and solids around on a table in the basement of his home, 2012 Manley avenue.

Tonight Wortham, who played at Granite City high school from 1957 through 1960, will be trying to become the first player from a St. Louis area college to score 2000 points in a career.

The 6-2 forward needs just four points to reach that name. His Sanford-Brown Business College team will meet the St. Louis Ross Club at 8:30 p.m. at the latter's gym, 2524 South 11th street, St. Louis.

Missed 11 Games
Wortham is certainly a busy fellow. He works as a swingman in the coke ovens at the Granite City Steel Co. and attends night classes for three hours two nights a week and, of course, has homework. Yet, despite all these obligations, he has missed only 11 of the Indians' 90 games in four seasons.

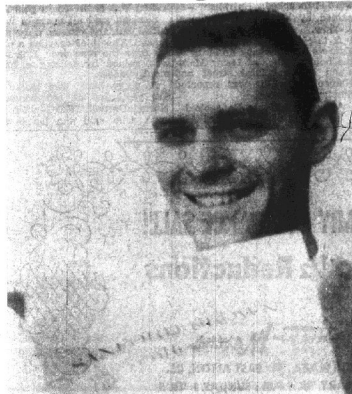

"The guys at work are real good about switching shifts with me if I have a game or classes," he said. His days around the coke ovens are numbered, however; he hopes to land a job in accounting when he is graduated next winter.

Coush John Campbell offers some impressive statistics regarding Wortham's basketball powers. In 79 games he has scored 1996 points for a 25.3 average and has grabbed 996 rebounds, a 12.6 average. In addition, he has averaged 3.5 assists per game.

Last season his 734 points set a school record. He scored 580 in 1962-63, 556 in 1961-62 and has 126 so far this season. An accurate shooter, he's made about 50% of his field goal attempts—most of them from his favorite corner position—and about 67% of his free throws. In one game, he scored 43 points.

Basketball-Minded Family
Wortham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wortham, 4200 Maryville road, comes from a family that has a distinguished basketball history. Carl himself was a regular for three years at GCIS and in his senior year teamed with players like Bobby Price, Frank Williams, Frank Knight and Jim Simpson to give the Warriors a 28-6 record.

Brother Larry, now a sophomore and basketball player at Sanford-Brown, was an off-guard on-on again starter for GCIS where he was graduated in 1962. And now 16-year-old Elmer is showing great promise as a junior on the high school team, although he's been sidelined with a sore foot.

GOOD READING. Carl Wortham, nearing the 2000-point mark for the Sanford-Brown Business College basketball team, looks over the school's basketball brochure.

There's another Wortham in the future. Five-year-old Roddy, the oldest, Wortham boy, says confidently, "shows great promise."

Carl Wortham and other team members gained attention when the Warriors upset two state-left the school when wedding bells rang. He married the former Elaine Effort, a girl he courted during family vacations to Tennessee. They have one daughter, two-year-old Carla.

Still much interested in a college education and basketball, he contacted his high school coach, Andy Sullivan, who suggested Sanford-Brown. His association with the Normandy, Mo., school has been a boon to both parties.

Wortham is getting an education at a highly-regarded business school and Sanford is winning basketball games and a good reputation in that line—so good that coach Campbell has a hard time getting games with colleges outside the Greater St. Louis College Conference.

Since Sanford is not a member of any national organization, Wortham still has three years of eligibility left in the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics—EU is a member as are hundreds of smaller colleges). At least one college has offered Wortham a tempting basketball scholarship.

At 22 and with family responsibilities, he doubts if he'd accept any scholarships. But if he really good opportunity snuck in, "well, Carl Wortham just might have three more seasons of college basketball."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
News From The Files
Of The
GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

DECEMBER 28, 1914
Tri-City residents, rich and poor, high and low, will long remember Christmas Day 1914 as one of the most enjoyable holidays ever experienced.

Seldom has there witnessed a day of greater cheer and good fellowship, and if there was one family in all the Tri-Cities that did not have ample provisions to enjoy the day, someone was generously at fault. Hundreds of baskets containing good things to eat and scores of bundles of warm clothing were distributed, and hundreds of toys for children were dispensed.

The Elks of Granite City, as is their usual custom, distributed baskets Christmas Eve—and even as late as the Saturday morning following Christmas, so great was the work of distribution. Two hundred and ninety-nine baskets were distributed. Each basket contained one or two chickens, canned corn and tomatoes, two loaves of bread, cranberries, a peck of potatoes, an orange or apple and other goodies.

About 150 holdovers at the city hall were fed breakfast at Cooley's Restaurant, and soup was furnished at the White Kitchen on Christmas Eve.

Various clubs and societies distributed baskets, including the Ladies' Circle, which was instrumental in giving scores of pairs of stockings, each filled with candy, oranges and toys for little folks. The Priscilla Club, Blue Bell Club and many others also did splendid work.

Hundreds of individuals assisted in the work of extending the real Christmas cheer. The Madison police department had its annual Christmas tree and treat at the city hall in Madison Christmas Day.

In all, it was a day that no one could wish to see again, feeling the true Christmas spirit, and everyone seemed pleased to be permitted to display the Yuletide spirit.

If there is one class of employees and employees in Granite City today that glad they were in the city in 1914, it is the Granite City Press-Record.

Christmas is over, it is the force at the post office. Christmas this year meant five times the amount of work they encountered last year, and the fact that the work was carried on without the delay of a single piece of mail speaks well for the efficiency of the department.

A feature of the delivery this year was the introduction of an automobile for delivery purposes. The mail carriers delivered the mail on Dec. 24, realizing that it would be impossible for the mail carriers to deliver the vast amount of packages and mail in time for Christmas, pressed his auto into use.

Three trips about the city were made, and each time the machine was piled high, side-backs being piled about the machine to accommodate additional packages. No estimate of the amount of pieces carried has been made.

The Suty but for soul of the Evangelical Church held its annual meeting at the church Monday morning. The following officers were elected: president, Carl Thielker; vice-president, Otto Romann; secretary, Louis Bieding; treasurer, M. Schilling.

Anti-Zoning Campaign Attacks SWIU, Property Values, Adequate Local Jobs

It is the season to be charitable. But we and others find it increasingly difficult to stomach "Madison county taxpayers" masquerade as a representative citizen group, particularly now that they have resorted to a personal attack on a zoning officer who has devoted countless time and energy to making zoning a fair and effective program benefiting all Madison county residents.

Target of the virulent attack, led at least in part by men with "axes to grind," in reality is each family in the Quad-City area and elsewhere in the county.

In the guise of encouraging new business and industry, the "taxpayers" are seeking to kill zoning—a move that would lead an equally fatal blow to the county's ability to attract new firms and expand job opportunities.

At a time when the importance of education is gaining increasing attention—and when Madison county continues to lag in the proportion of high school graduates continuing their education—the "taxpayers" would fight development of Southwestern Illinois University and meanwhile use every imagined opportunity to sully its reputation and cripple its community service.

At a time when maintaining a reasonably low level of taxes depends on the residential and commercial growth that zoning can bring, the "taxpayers" are fighting a program that offers the best hope to taxpayers.

The opposition to zoning is illogical, but persistent. The only thing that would be more illogical is complacency on the part of the vast majority of citizens: because of their big stake in good government, adequate jobs, outstanding education and the protection of their investments, the people of Madison county must do everything in their power to sustain and strengthen their zoning law.

An oldtimer—one who can remember when all members of his family had breakfast at the same time.

The trouble with most budgets is that they operate only on paper.

THE FORGOTTEN

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed. Letters must be received at least 250 words will be given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Letters containing obscenity or lacking in good taste or fair play will be rejected or edited.

SAYS SCHOOLS CALLING OUT NEW SUBSTITUTES
To the Editor:
What has the Granite City school board got against the substitute cafeteria workers?

First, they hire a substitute in 35th place in the list instead of the 40th place. We want this corrected.

Then, to rub it in deeper, they call out the substitute cafeteria workers instead of those who have been working for some time.

PAPER AIDED CONTEST
To the Editor:
The January would like to take this opportunity to express their thanks to Mrs. Nadine Goggins, of the Press-Record for the help given on our recent Christmas lighting contest. The article and the story were very helpful to us. In an organization such as ours it is nice to know we can call on for help.

BEAUTIFUL MYTH AND WONDERFUL REALITY
To the Editor:
To a little child, Christmas is the anticipation of a visit from Santa Claus, the excitement of gifts and the excitement of visits to Toyland, helping decorate a beautiful tree and the excitement of the things taking in the kitchen, ignoring the repeated warnings that "if you don't behave, Santa Claus will come and find out the interminable agony of waiting for Christmas morning—the Saint Nicholas of the children of the world." Fifty-four Granite City Steel men attended a "Forty-Year Men's" banquet.

Charged with Theft
Leonie Conroy, 30, of St. Louis, was charged with theft of a coat and a hat on Thursday afternoon at the police station. She is charged with taking five black leather coats valued at $40 and a black coat valued at $20. She is also charged with taking a woman, but she was released after questioning.

Hit-and-Run Accident
A car driven by Margaret Houseman, 2422 Logan street, was struck in the left rear fender Monday for a party in the home of Mrs. George Schuler, 2167 Lynch avenue, Maryland Place, home after 8 p.m. Friday.

THE MASTON SPEAKS

REV. JAMES H. ELDRIDGE
Central Free Methodist Church
Jesus gave us the story of a young man who one day demanded the portion of his inheritance from his father. Receiving his portion, he went into a far country. He thought that, once he was away from his father's disapproval, he could spend time and money the way he wished.

The Bible goes on to relate that after some time, funds and friends were gone and the disillusioned man had to find work doing what he could find to do feeding swine.

One day he saw himself as being in a lost situation, a situation for one of his nationality. He saw his clothes tattered and his body covered with dirt and decay. He was conscious of a hunger that would have driven him to consume the feed the hogs were being fattened on.

Prodigal Son Returns
He decided that to return to his father's house and to his status of a slave was the best course of action. When he came near home, his father ran to meet him and claimed him as a son.

Let us trace the steps that this prodigal took and apply them to any sinner's path to God.

First comes conviction—one sees himself as God sees him, guilty of sin. At one time he thought himself to be something, but now he sees himself in his dirty, tattered clothing and realizes that, before God, his righteousness is as filthy rags.

Second, being convinced of the error of his way, action is required. It isn't enough for one to see that he should be better; he must say, "By the grace of God, I can be better and, by His help, I shall seek to be the person I should be."

The third step is faith. He must believe that God must believe that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him. The fourth step is surrender to God. There can be no hidden sin or pleasure, no wish to be like God and His angels.

These four steps will bring one of the peace of Christ in this world and a hope of the eternal world. It is the anchor to soul unrest and deep spiritual hunger.

Port Dedication, United Fund Success Among Fall Events

An "over the top" United Fund campaign, dedication of the Tri-City Regional Port District's new terminal building, and the dedication of the new terminal building, were among the fall events.

Gov. Otto Kerner came here for September ceremonies marking the opening of the new terminal building. The dedication of the new terminal building was a busy fall in the Quad-City area.

Sen. Douglas Summarizes 1964

By Sen. Paul H. Douglas
This was a busy and active year for me. Here are a few facts about the things I did.

I answered 310 of the 312 for the best record of any of my colleagues.

There were 280 quorum calls this year, many of which I answered during the day in the evening during the civil rights filibuster.

I answered 208 of these, which Red for the best record of any of my colleagues.

My legislative support for the Kennedy-Johnson program was the only one of the 100 senators, according to the authorized Congressional Quarterly.

Visited 75 Counties
In addition to my high attendance record, I visited 75 counties in the last year.

My bills supporting and implementing the Supreme Court decision on desegregation and providing technical assistance and community services to states and localities to help in this work were incorporated in the civil rights bill of 1964.

Series Of Tax Reforms
A whole series of tax reforms for which I have been pressing since 1951 became law in 1964. These included provisions on the dividend credit, capital gains, stock options, reduction in taxes for small businesses, expense accounts and income earned abroad.

Security Act to allow older people to earn small amounts of money without losing their social security benefits is now law.

In what I believe was an historic maneuver to help in this leadership in defeating the Dixiecrat attempt to overturn the Social Security Act to allow older people to earn small amounts of money without losing their social security benefits is now law.

Since I am writing this letter, this sort of thing is happening in our town about which I am disturbed. We who read our Press-Record have seen quite a lot in this area and what is being done to reduce it or eliminate it.

Bones Found in Kerr Island Fire May be Human

The charred remains of what might be a human body was to be examined by medical authorities today to determine if someone died in a fire that destroyed a house at 151 Merchants road, Venice, early Christmas morning.

The fire first was reported at 1:13 a.m. Friday, but the blaze had gained considerable headway by the time Venice police arrived. The house was destroyed by the blaze.

At 3:45 a.m., Elbert Morning, owner of the house, told Venice police that a friend, Annelle Langford, 44, had been in the house when he and a companion left earlier to visit St. Louis. He said he was unable to locate the Langford woman.

Because of the smoldering ashes, police and firemen were unable to search the ruins until 3:50 p.m. Friday when they found what might be a charred body. The remains were taken to the Pieper Funeral Home for examination by Deputy Coroner Henry Pieper.

Pieper said today that the examination was awaiting the arrival of Dr. W. W. Billings, Madison county coroner, who was expected to examine the remains later today or tomorrow. Venice police, meanwhile, said they had received no reports that the Langford woman had been seen since the fire.

Motorist Hits House, Two Poles In Two Accidents

Five charges—three in Venice and two in Madison—were placed against Leanne King, 35, who was involved in two accidents within 10 minutes at 9:15 and 9:25 p.m. Saturday, involving her auto and a house and two utility poles.

The house of Rose Benton, 1222 College avenue, Venice, was hit by the auto at 9:15 p.m. and two gas meters were broken. A description of the car that fled the scene and the license number was given to Venice police.

At 9:25 p.m. the northbound auto went out of control in the 200 block of State street in Madison and hit two utility poles.

Miss King, who was booked at Madison with an address at 2147 Hill street, Eagle Park, was charged there with reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

She was turned over to Venice police, who charged her with no driver's license, leaving the scene of an accident and resisting arrest. She was booked with an address at 1002 Logan street. The arresting officers said they had to carry her to the cell. She was released on $250 property bond.

Don E. Chamberlain, 75, P-R Correspondent, Dies

Don E. Chamberlain, dean of the state capital press corps at Springfield and a correspondent for the Press-Record, died Friday following a heart attack. He was 75.

Mr. Chamberlain was the father of Secretary of State William Chamberlain. He served as the Springfield correspondent for 16 Illinois newspapers, a service which he started in the 1940's after being bureau manager of the United Press office in Springfield from 1929 to 1943.

Burglary Suspect Arrested Before Theft is Reported

Booker T. Turner, 44, of 1220 Market street, Venice, waived preliminary hearing on a burglary charge in Venice and was being held in jail today in lieu of $30,000 property bond pending grand jury investigation.

Turner was charged in a circuit court warrant with burglarizing the home of Mrs. Lawrence Heagy, Second street and Hampton avenue, Venice, Thursday afternoon. Entrance was gained by breaking the glass out of a kitchen door. Two small lockers, each containing about $5 in change, were taken, and later were found broken and empty at the rear of the Heagy garage.

Venice police had arrested Turner an hour before they knew a burglary had been committed. In response to a call from the neighborhood that a prowler had been seen on the porch of a house, police searched the area and found Turner a short distance away from where the call had been received.

Turner was booked only for investigation at that time, but at 7:15 p.m. the report of the house burglary was received. Further investigation resulted in filing of the burglary charge against Turner. Assistant Police Chief John Essington said Turner is an ex-convict, having served two previous prison terms.

Turner refused to make a statement and waived preliminary hearing before Venice Magistrate Wesley Edwards. His bond was fixed at $5000 cash bail or $30,000 in property.

Tax Directive Given Organizations by IRS

Organizations that may have received federal tax exemption rulings before last July 1, but which have not received questionnaires as to their present activities from the Internal Revenue Service, should contact his office at once, Director Jay G. Philpott of the Springfield district announced today.

He said his office will supply the forms to organizations needing them. He said most of the questionnaires to organizations currently shown on Internal Revenue's records as exempt from federal income tax has been completed.

Philpott added it is not necessary for a branch or subsidiary of a state or national organization, which is covered by a group ruling to the headquarters organization, to fill out a questionnaire if the branch or subsidiary is not required to file an exempt organization return (Form 990 or 990A).

Also, it is not necessary for an organization granted exemption after last July 1, or any Form 990-P filers, to fill out a questionnaire. He said exempt organizations receiving questionnaires by mail which have not yet returned them should do so at once, since those not responding will be presumed to be inactive or no longer interested in maintaining their tax exempt status.

General Steel Industries-Designed Rapid Transit Cars

UNIQUE RAPID TRANSIT CAR DESIGN for a billion-dollar, 75-mile system being planned for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, General Steel Industries, through its local Commonwealth and the St. Louis

Car divisions, has an important role in the designing and is hopeful of securing orders for the commuter cars to be placed in operation in 1967.

"GENERAL 70" TRUCK developed at the local Commonwealth plant for the new rapid transit passenger cars to provide a combination of roll stability and vertical and lateral spring flexibility.

Driverless Auto Rolls

A driverless station wagon owned by Frank P. Finazzo, 2770 Saratoga avenue, rolled backwards out of a driveway at Fahnestock's service station onto Nameoki road Thursday and struck the southbound car of Thomas C. Lawson, 3008 Elm street, in the right side. Both were damaged.

Gerald Thebeau, 2340 Lynch avenue, was among 60 Illinois agents of the State Farm Insurance Companies honored recently at a "People's Choice Ball" in Bloomington. He was accompanied on the two-day trip by his wife, Karen. They were guests of the Illinois Regional office and toured the company's Illinois offices.

New-Style RR Trucks Planned at GC Plant

General Steel Industries is ready for the resurgence in rapid transit and commuter systems and is hopeful of getting an order for ultra-modern rapid transit for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District for its local Commonwealth and St. Louis Car divisions.

The local firm has been instrumental in the design of a unique commuter train to be used in the 75-mile system in California which will cost a billion dollars and is slated to begin operation in 1967.

Working with a Detroit industrial design firm, the locally-headquartered General Steel has come up with a truck arrangement—which would be manufactured at the local plant—that would provide low-cost, light weight, good riding, quality, overall stability and flexibility in features.

It is known as "General 70."

A spokesman for the company explained the principal objective in the development of the truck was a combination of roll stability and vertical and lateral spring flexibility.

Usually, one of these characteristics obtained at the expense of the other," he explained, "but in the General 70 it is possible to obtain good roll stability while still providing for a very soft vertical and lateral springing system. This is accomplished by placing the bolster springs directly beneath the floor of the car, resulting in the high and wide spring spacing necessary for stability."

All of the main truck structure, including the truck bolster, main frame and side frames, are one-piece castings of nickel alloy steel. General Steel is noted for one-piece castings. Extensive use of rubber also is made in the design. In addition to the rubber sandwich suspension of the main frame, rubber grommets are used to surround the journal bearings.

High flexibility combination air-coil bolster springs are used. Two coil springs and one air bellows are located at each corner of the rapid transit car. Hydraulically damped leveling valves are used, two at one end of the car and one at the other. This provides a stable three-point sensing system.

When the car is light, the air bellows carry only a token pressure with the coil springs supporting the weight. As passengers enter, the leveling valves increase the bellows pressure to maintain a constant floor height. Through this, the loading range carried by the coil springs is constant with all variable passenger load being carried by the air springs.

This system produces a relatively flat load frequency curve. Deceleration rates are kept constant with varying passenger load by sensing of air spring pressure at the single leveling valve locations. This provides an accurate weight measurement not influenced by car tipping or leveling valve action occasioned by out of plane track characteristics.

70-Foot Long Cars

The rapid transit cars—70 feet long, 10½ feet wide and 10 feet high—are "sculptured with a modified thrust" to allow the Bay Area rapid transit trains to "look as good going as they do coming—neither sharp nor blunt."

The trains will feature natural metal and color exterior finish. Large window at the ends will permit maximum visibility for the car attendant and vertical louvers will serve as an intake for air-conditioned rapid transit trains.

An allocation of $450,000 has been granted for the design and construction of a full-scale mock-up to be ready by June 1965.

The interior design emphasizes comfort and features unusually wide seats to provide more space for passenger comfort than any other rapid transit trains.

The seats will be covered with a dark gray vinyl plastic material specially woven to "breathe," and color schemes are based on muted tones of buff, yellow and gray selected for "relaxed and non-living" riding qualities.

Zoning Appeals Board Sets Four On-Site Hearings

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has scheduled four on-site hearings to be held Jan. 11 at locations for which zoning changes have been petitioned.

First hearing will be that on a petition of the Tri-City Grocery Co., owner, and Dale J. and Ruth L. Smith, prospective purchasers, to rezone a plot of Collinsville township property from R-1 (one-family residential) to B-1 (limited business district) status. The property is located on Bypass 40 about one mile west of Route 159. The hearing will be held on the site at 11:15 a.m.

At 2 p.m. a hearing is scheduled on a petition of George Flitoff Jr., attorney, to rezone a section of property in the Arlington Heights subdivision from A (agricultural) to R-3 (one-family residence). The property is located in Nameoki township approximately one and a half miles east of the junction of Illinois route 111 and 35 on the old Granite City-Collinsville road.

A hearing will be held at 2:40 p.m. on a petition to rezone a tract of land one mile south of Route 3 on Maryville road from R-3 (one-family residence) to R-5 (multiple family residence). The petition was filed by Leo Kozien, attorney.

The fourth hearing is scheduled for 3:10 p.m. involving two lots in Cedarview subdivision in the 3700 block of Pontoon road. The petition was filed by Morris Boney, owner of record, and requests issuance of a special use permit for construction of a duplex dwelling.

Beat dry weather discomfort... Try a humidifier

Ever consider moving to the Sahara Desert? If the idea doesn't strike your fancy, then it's time to buy a humidifier.

During the cold winter months, the air inside your heated home actually may get as dry as the Sahara Desert. That's a fact. This causes dry nasal passages, chapped lips, fuzzy, unmanageable hair.

Dry heated air is damaging to your furniture, drapes and carpets, too. An electric humidifier restores the proper amount of moisture to the air. Living comfort returns to normal. Find out why homeowners who have a humidifier wouldn't be without one. It needn't cost a cent to find out!

No obligation. Simply try this new humidifier FREE for 5 days. It adds up to 16 gallons of vital moisture to your home air each day for the most enjoyable climate possible. Buy on convenient terms if you choose.

Madison Ave. Mishap Fatal to GC Man, 78

John Korcosg Walks Into Side of Moving Auto at 26th Street

John Korcosg, 78, of 2538 Jerden avenue, died at 7 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital of injuries he sustained when he walked into the left front of an auto at 3:50 p.m. Monday at 26th street and Madison avenue.

Mr. Korcosg's death is the third traffic fatality in 1964 in Granite City and the 22nd of the year for the Quad-Cities. In 1963 there were five traffic deaths in Granite City and 36 in the entire area.

When admitted at the hospital, where he was taken by ambulance, Mr. Korcosg had an injury to his right hip and abrasions to his face. It was later determined that he also suffered internal injuries.

The car was driven by Mrs. Tomes Kirchoff, 48 January lane who was headed north. Two witnesses said the car stopped immediately. No charges were filed.

Relative said Mr. Korcosg was this way home after having walked downtown. He had decided to walk rather than accept a ride.

Born in Hungary, Mr. Korcosg lived in Granite City 53 years and was a cooper at General Steel Industries before retiring. He was a member of Sacred Catholic Church and the William Penn fraternal order.

His wife, Mrs. Theresa Korcosg, died in 1942. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Korcosg, Granite City, a son, John Korcosg, Granite City, three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue. A funeral will be held at Henry Pieper, deputy coroner.

Two Passengers Injured
Passengers in two cars were injured when a car driven by Wayne J. Strickman, Decatur, Ill., was struck by a car driven by Billy O. Ross, 19, of 2361 Iowa street, while Strickman was waiting for another car to make a left turn out of Nameoki road into a store parking lot near Leonard avenue at 9 p.m. Wednesday. Complaint of pains were denied.

$1,550,000 Earmarked For Quad-Cities Will Include Rte. 151 R-O-W

A vast Illinois highway improvement program in which $16,093,000 is earmarked for project Madison county $1,550,000 in the immediate Quad-City area—was announced yesterday.

The program includes an outlay of $385,000 for two sections of the Nameoki road improvement and calls for actual construction of the new road during 1965.

The Granite City council has scheduled a special session for 7 p.m. Jan. 11 to hear progress reports from City Atty. George Flick, Jr., and the road-way engineer, Andrew Gasparovic, on the acquisition of the necessary right-of-way between Madison avenue and the north city limits. State highway officials also will be invited to attend.

The Quad-City and Madison county highway improvements were included in a state-wide program announced by Gov. Kerner, involving the right-of-way acquisition and construction projects, costing an estimated $23,410,000 throughout the state. Of this total, Gov. Kerner said, $16,093,000 is set up for work on interstate highways.

After the engineer spoke, Alderman Moen called for an opinion from City Atty. Flick on the approval, but the 9-to-7 vote failed to allow advancement to final approval.

First Reading Vote
The vote for first reading also was 9-to-7. Voting ayes were: Parkey, Burke, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas Moen, Stoenberg and Thompson; while voting no were Nunn, Skoush, Baskich, Mrs. Betts, Bartoski, Bergfeld and Pence.

Moen called for an opinion from City Atty. Flick on the legality of the action by Mayor Davis in ordering the contractor to proceed with construction and to place orders for equipment, including the sewage filter.

Roger Babson's Forecast of 1965 Financial and Business Conditions

Copyright, 1964, Publisher Financial Bureau, Inc.

Promising the people of the United States "peace and prosperity," President Johnson was carried to victory last November on an over-whelming landslide. By nature he is more likely to compromise than to contest. Also, he is deeply sincere in his desire to accelerate the economic growth of this country and to wipe out poverty.

But we must not forget that Franklin Roosevelt promised to keep America out of "foreign wars." And already the British financial crisis has forced the Federal reserve to raise its discount rate to 4%.

President Johnson's dislike of higher money rates.

Therefore, as we look forward to 1965 from our more than 60 years of experience in forecasting and analysis, we emphasize once again that the great rolling tides of economic fundamentals and social currents are likely to have a greater impact on what is to unfold than will the campaign promises of successful candidates.

1. There will be no war with Russia during 1965. The Russian Union has some of the "peace and prosperity" that President Johnson promised our citizens.

2. Watch Russia's satellites in China. The Soviet Union has a deal with the new Moscow administration which will involve more trade and prosperity and less politics. Following Khrushchev's fall, the satellites will aim for more consumer goods for their people rather than for more personal freedom.

3. No Berlin Crisis.

4. Russia will not bring the Berlin issue to a crisis in 1965. The danger will be to soft-pedal talk about Berlin until Red China's course of action becomes clear.

5. Red China made the biggest news in 1964 by exploding a nuclear bomb. In 1965, Communist China's greatest effort will be to get admission to the United Nations. World leaders cannot ignore the fact that the Chinese have 700,000,000 people. We believe there is a 50-50 chance that the Red Dragon will get into the UN in 1965.

6. Regardless of what happens in the next few months, we look for President Johnson to compromise on the situation in South Vietnam sometime during 1965 and move toward "neutralization."

7. Conditions in Cuba are not likely to change radically in 1965. The Russians will do nothing to handicap Castro; neither will they do much to help him. Castro will be unable to deliver the economic help he has been promising other Latin American nations. And with the sugar price down, a Cuban chieftain will try to make a deal with the United States by the end of 1965.

8. Cutbacks in defense spending will not result in radical changes.

The first step is to relocate a four-inch water line to the canal locks which would interfere with construction of settling tanks. In the background is the city's sewage pumping station.

1965 Area Business Forecast Given Today

Up-to-the-minute views of 29 Quad-City business and financial leaders are published on Pages 11, 12, 13 and 14 today in the 12th annual "Press-Record Business Review and Forecast."

Written especially for the Press-Record, the articles reveal local and national developments in 1964 and discuss the outlook for 1965, listing specific plans and needs in most years, including 1964, the forecasts have been extremely accurate.

If no new hearing is scheduled, or if it is held and there is an adverse ruling, an appeal to the state supreme court is regarded as likely.

The Granite City school district yesterday filed a petition for a rehearing of a Dec. 15 ruling by the Illinois Appellate Court. The decision had upheld Harold W. Kronsheim, 2142 Madison avenue, in his successful 1963 Madison county court contention that he has an interest in the "Coolidge Junior high school campus."

Deadline for a reply by the school system was yesterday. The same retired appellate judges who issued the Dec. 15 ruling are expected to decide whether to grant a new appeal hearing at Mount Vernon. They are Ross Reynolds, of Venice, Clarence Wright of Carbondale and Franklin Dose of Shelbyville.

Police Clear 19 GC House Burglaries

Four Juveniles Arrested For E. Granite Crimes; One Gets Reform School

Granite City police cleared 19 house burglaries which occurred during the last two months during investigations by Detective James George Taylor, chief of detectives, reported. Most were in the East Granite area.

Four boys from 11 to 14 years old were arrested with the oldest being from the Illinois Youth Commission for transfer to the St. Charles training school for boys. He is the youngest.

The other three boys were 12, 13 and 14 years old. They were taken to the police station, where they were held for a further questioning by police. Teller said the youngest was involved in only two cases, but the oldest participated in all 19.

Spot Suspicious Boy
Police received a call from a resident of the 2600 block of Lincoln avenue who reported a suspicious boy. Officers took the boy to the police station. He was carrying a half-filled bottle of soda and had two Kennedy half dollars.

It was learned later that these were taken in the last of the burglaries shortly before his arrest. That report was not made until 8:24 p.m. and the boy had already admitted most of the cases.

The boy held out on the last one, a five-cent coin, but he had the last one on him, Teller said.

As the only item recovered was a silver crucifix on a chain taken from the home of Rudolph Palmer, 2829 East 24th street, on Oct. 22.

Knock On Door
The boys generally operated at about 8 p.m. Chief Teller said. Parents were called to a home and knock on the door. If there was no answer, they would break in. He said there was an answer, the boys generally would ask for the location of a particular street or house as to the hour, Chief Teller said.

As a rule they looked only for money and broke piggy banks, but in some cases they left empty-handed, the chief said.

The oldest boy, who was released from the police station on Oct. 1, was not considered as having come from a family. Chief Teller said. His parents provided well. He had a car and "from what I've been told, he had a better Christmas than many."

Locations of Burglaries
Names, addresses and dates in the other house burglaries were: Walter Dalton, 2812 Palmer avenue, Dec. 21; Lawrence R. Decker, 2808 (4th) Palmer avenue, Dec. 21; Donald Shaffer, 2915 Edwardsville road, Nov. 17; Hildred Schaeble, 2669 East 22nd street, Nov. 20; L. C. Cruse, 2108 Nameoki road (also a coin collection theft), Dec. 21; William Lynn, 2911 Palmer avenue, Dec. 21; Jerry Shelton, 2818 Pershing avenue, Dec. 21; Carolyn Givens, 2821 Myrtle avenue, Dec. 21; Samuel Shovel, 2914 Palmer avenue, Dec. 21; house trailer at 23rd street and Nameoki road, Dec. 27; Norma Daniel, 2820 2nd Lincoln avenue, Dec. 27; William Daily, 2812 Edwards street, Dec. 27.

Grain dealer, 2212 East 23rd street, Nov. 14; Samuel Shovel, 2914 Palmer avenue, Dec. 21; Lloyd Edwards, 2357 Lincoln avenue, Nov. 23; Henry Moore, 2708 Lincoln avenue, Nov. 29; and Jerry Hopkins, 2301 Nameoki road, Dec. 20.

Income Tax Service Planned at City Hall

Income tax assistance will be given by telephone from the East St. Louis office of the Internal Revenue Service. And a temporary service office also will be set up in Granite City to serve Quad-Cityans, it was announced Tuesday.

The service office in the city hall in Granite City will be open Jan. 11, 18, 25, 22 and 29 and April 5, 12 and 15.

Telephone service at the East St. Louis office is available Monday through Friday each week from April 15. The office will be closed Feb. 22.

The Granite City school district yesterday filed a petition for a rehearing of a Dec. 15 ruling by the Illinois Appellate Court. The decision had upheld Harold W. Kronsheim, 2142 Madison avenue, in his successful 1963 Madison county court contention that he has an interest in the "Coolidge Junior high school campus."

Deadline for a reply by the school system was yesterday. The same retired appellate judges who issued the Dec. 15 ruling are expected to decide whether to grant a new appeal hearing at Mount Vernon. They are Ross Reynolds, of Venice, Clarence Wright of Carbondale and Franklin Dose of Shelbyville.

If no new hearing is scheduled, or if it is held and there is an adverse ruling, an appeal to the state supreme court is regarded as likely.

THE MADISON COUNTY SPORTSMAN
By DON HASTINGS
County Conservation Officer

I was told when I applied for conservation officer that enjoying hunting and fishing was not a qualification. I know why—most of us have hunted but never seem to have time very often.

One day last week, however, a friend and I went out hunting. Having no place lined up, we stopped at a farm with a lot of multi-floored fences on a lot and asked permission to hunt. The farmer was agreeable and said, "Why don't you come back sometime hunt my rabbits. I have them all over the place." Saying we would, we went out in the field with the pointer.

If not convinced before, I was convinced immediately of the worth of this mid-hunt rabbit game cover. There seemed to be hundreds of song birds flying continually in front of us and nervous wrecks from all the song birds and rabbits. We took the pointer back to the truck and put it behind a barn.

Even though only about 45 minutes of shooting time remained, my friend got the limit of rabbits and I was able to get three, along with many misses. I have between 15 and 20 rabbits in addition to where I was within shooting range of the house and barn.

I realize the problem of using farmers to plant this vocation. It spreads rapidly through the seeds that birds eat and soon is everywhere in addition to where it was planted. However, in an area of little or no pasture where the ground is farmed right up to the fence, it is an ideal cover and can be controlled.

Indebted to Farmers. Hunters and others interested in wildlife are certainly indebted to farmers who give up a lot of extra 10-foot strip of ground that most people want to farm. It was almost unbelievable when driving down the road and seeing that flat green all the way farmed in every direction, that the ground is farmed right up to the fence, it is an ideal cover and can be controlled.

It pays to know where to go or to ask someone.

Freedom's Meaning

Unless people know freedom's source, its meaning, its obligation and its hazards, how can they protect it? The source of freedom and the force that sustains it is the people's standard of character and conduct. Knowledge, courage, perception and determination are qualities required if they are to be free.

Dr. Sims says SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

SNOW SHOVELING—

WOMEN'S WORK?

A few years ago an eminent heart specialist made its startling statement: "Women are more qualified to shovel snow than men."

Needless to say, this statement stirred replies nationally from indignant members of both sexes. Actually, the physician did not intend to slander the strength of manhood or add still another burden upon womanhood. He was merely stating medical fact.

Strain On Heart

Shoveling a moderately heavy snow requires approximately the same energy as running seven to eight miles an hour. To the overweight, middle-aged man who lifts nothing heavier than a pencil every day, this unaccustomed strain may cause a heart attack or produce the painful symptom called angina pectoris.

Add to this the burden of walking through snow—plus the restrictive wear of at least well-conditioned boots, heavy sweater, scarf, hat and gloves—and the risk becomes considerable.

Most modern housewives, on the other hand, are slim, trim and well-conditioned by the tasks which include such Herculean efforts as moving furniture, scrubbing floors, lifting and carrying shopping bags.

Less Risk For Women

To see why this type of conditioning is more conducive to snow shoveling without the risk of heart attack, let's take a look at the anatomy of the heart itself.

The heart is a muscular pump nourished principally by blood flowing through the coronary arteries. In many middle-aged, overweight persons, the coronary arteries become partially obstructed by a thickening of the arterial walls, resulting in a reduced supply of blood to the heart muscle.

Under normal conditions, even this reduced blood supply may be adequate to meet most of the demands of the heart muscle.

However, with vigorous activity, such as shoveling snow, the heart must pump much faster, and the muscle needs more blood than the partially obstructed arteries can supply. The resulting under-nourishment of the heart muscle is sufficient to trigger a painful anginal attack—or if severe enough—a fatal heart attack.

Regular Exercise Needed These serious consequences can be avoided to anyone who is accustomed to vigorous physical exercise, even in the absence of real danger.

They are most apt to happen, however, to the fat, flabby, middle-aged man who is sedentary and who works in an office all day and confines his physical activity to weekends.

Men, if you fit this category, it's a good idea to let your wife shovel the snow. Better yet, save face as well as your life by hiring a youngster to shovel your walk.

Vast Steel Mill Expansion

Biggest Development Of 1964

A look back on the last day of the year, and a look ahead at the first issue of the new year. On the premise that this is the appropriate time for such summaries, the Press-Record has reviewed 1964 events and finds the No. 1 local topic was easier to select than in years past, just as the land victory by President Johnson was an obvious national choice.

A three-year, $140 million modernization and expansion program announced by Granite City Steel Co. ranked as the biggest single project in the history of the Quad-Cities. It will continue to make news by stimulating a local construction payroll of record proportions.

Progress in development of Southwestern Illinois University, expansion of the ten-year-old Bi-State Development Agency public river terminal, the start of shipments to new Tri-City Regional District facilities, school and commercial expansion, enlargement of local industries, sharp employment increases and continued population gains all had a significant favorable impact on the local economy.

Groundwork was laid for future improvements, including establishment of ice skating rink in Wilson Park and beautification of the triangular downtown block occupied by the former post office. Increased attention was given to the long-delayed widening of Nameoki road, and the state appropriately placed a high priority on construction of the riverfront highway through the Quad-City area.

United Fund solicitations went "over the top," countywide were reviewed under a new state plan and fluoridation was authorized by the Granite City council, although start of the tooth decay prevention program remained stymied by the city of Belleville.

A second Madison county zoning repeal attempt was defeated 27-17 by the board of supervisors. Two county tax rate proposals failed, resulting in adoption of a $72,000-deficit budget for 1965. Democrats swept local elections, including the unprecedented statewide House of Representatives election, and Madison county circuit judges were retained in office by voters. Separation of Lewis Board voting by county was done by faulty wording in the law. Ten-county state police headquarters were moved to Madison county.

The Bi-State Development Agency announced plans to restrict closer parking in St. Clair county and to establish the largest air-conditioned bus fleet in the nation. Federal aid was sought to develop Horseshoe Lake as a park, and Illinois Power Co. sponsored formation of a bi-county industrial development organization. Curbing of river and pollution continued to progress, but possible loss of highway construction funds for this area remained unresolved.

On the governmental front, Madison County again was a serious shortcoming. Granite City councilmen feuded and fussed, with many of them announcing plans to run for mayor or other offices as the year drew near an end. But progress was painfully slow, as symbolized by the city engineering appointment issue, and there was rapidly mounting support for a new approach to municipal problems.

Madison discussions centered on street improvements, the future of the city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge, industrial site purchases, sewage treatment and Madison's lack of uniform tavern closing hours. Vase issues included the proposed Broadway traffic underpass, a developing McKinley Bridge financial crisis and the most economical means of providing sewage treatment. Opposition to incumbent officials began to develop in both to towns. Nameoki township and Pontoon Beach residents pondered a treatment plant and sanitary sewer proposal.

Need for a community incinerator confronted all local cities. Sewerage service was extended to Eagle Park, and other utilities kept pace with heavy fringe area residential construction. Many new apartments were built, and 100 additional federal units for the elderly were approved. A sixth Quad-City Catholic parish was established. Area tourist attractions were stressed, along with efforts to better identify them and local cities on new highways.

It was a busy whirl, and one that was productive in many ways. But many challenges still await Quad-Citians in further improving their community, making it truly the one place in all the world where they prefer to live, shop, work and play.

Time Working Against Public

On Treatment Plant Equipment

Granite City aldermen took a stand aiding citizens and taxpayers when they placed on first reading the Special Pollution Abatement Committee's recommendation to obtain competitive bids on revised materials in five key sewage treatment mechanisms.

However, time is working against the council majority and against the people. Because his report to proceed with equipment purchases can prevent plant they need, it has been delayed had not the more adaptable sewerage Mayor Davis owes it to the public to call a halt.

An opportunity to revise the specifications had been publicly promised, and the current time schedule would not have developed had not the order been issued without consulting the committee, which had conducted exhaustive study and was thoroughly familiar with every phase of the sewage treatment program.

Compounding the problem was a deferral—continuing the unsound practice of enabling 12½% of the council membership to block action. Each day of delay is helping one of the two competing manufacturers to build up a case for a possible financial claim.

The controversy is complicated but the issues remain clear.

Compounding the breakthrough, plus the need for longer-lasting and more corrosion-resistant materials than those specified, make it imperative that the equipment plans be altered.

Unless competition can be retained in determining the cost of the revision, taxpayers will suffer needlessly.

Forthright and immediate action to protect Granite City's pocketbooks is essential.

Conflict Of Interest Legislation

Rates High Priority At Springfield

Introduction of bills is only a first step; many are never passed and signed into law. But, judging from the number of bills introduced thus far, the Illinois legislature has an opportunity for much constructive work in 1965.

Since nearly all of the evidence turned up against various Illinois governmental officials has been furnished by newspapers and the federal government, there appears to be substantial merit in a bill to exclude legislators from their present membership on the Illinois State Crime Commission; they have been placed in an awkward position in Springfield, Ill., by asking them to comment obviously must be one of the fields investigated by such a commission, now composed of eight legislators and four citizens.

Another proposal would create a commission on legislative ethics, while a third would revamp the state's conflict of interest law, possibly requiring officials and state employees to disclose all financial interests in companies doing business with the state, plus any interest in race tracks, utilities and auto manufacturers.

If state lawmakers are to be part of a respected and effective branch of government, they must first make it clear to the public that their "house is in order." Some of the bills now under study could convey just such an intent.

Reapportionment Major Topic

Of 1965 Illinois Assembly Session

When the 74th Illinois General Assembly convenes next Wednesday, Jan. 6, in Springfield, reapportionment of the legislature will be the unusual make-up of the legislature and the many weighty issues which it will consider.

Republicans will control the Senate, 33 to 25, and Democrats will dominate the House, 118 to 69.

Zone Change Sought

For Apartment Bldg.

A zoning change request by the Schermers brothers to permit the construction of a large apartment building on the six-acre parcel owned by the Schermers family was submitted to the Granite City Council Monday night.

The tract is located at the intersection of Michigan and St. Paul avenues, west of Wilson Park, and is zoned for single-family dwellings, and the request is for R-5 for multiple family dwellings.

25 YEARS AGO

News From The Files OF THE PRESS-RECORD

JANUARY 1, 1915

Elated over his good fortune in having been able to purchase a ticket to New York for only $10, a man with a grumpy expression of how he would make his friends green with envy after he had seen the wonders of the "Great White Way." Edwin John of Granite City Saturday rode to East St. Louis and traveled across the bridge to Union Station. He was about to start on the last leg of his journey when the ticket-holder there poured cold water on his dreams. "You can't even ride the bumper car on this line with a hunting license for Illinois," he gruffly declared the ticket man at Union Station. In telling him that a large police headquarters in St. Louis, John said he had bought the ticket from a man in Madison who informed him he had a few tickets to New York he would like to get rid of. A man on the train that John rode was about due, and he was so delighted at getting the ticket that he did not examine it minutely.

Word came out about this morning—in confirmation of announcements made ten days ago, when the plant shut down for repairs—that a large portion of the Granite City rolling mill will resume operations next Monday.

Officials said today that the universal mill, two sheet mills and ten tin mills will be a boon to area residents. Other mills will be added rapidly.

The plant has been down during the holiday season, and employees have enjoyed the holidays, many of them taking advantage of the shutdown to visit relatives and friends in other cities. All of them, however, as well as merchants and residents in general, will be pleased to learn that the mill will resume Monday.

Soil, Water Needs Stressed by Farmers

Plans to combat serious waste of soil and water resources in Madison county by means of the Agricultural Conservation Program of 1964 were developed by farm leaders and experts in a meeting this month.

Every dollar available for conservation must be put to the best possible use, the development group recognized, if the county is to stop the waste of resources needed for preservation of farming and business and the feeding of future generations.

Flooding from springtime water runoff, stream bank erosion, wind erosion, silting up of reservoirs and compaction of soil are among the destructive actions still taking place despite progress in use of good vegetative cover on the land and construction of terraces, dams and other mechanical measures. It was brought out.

The 1965 program will not be radically different from that of 1964, but will be pointed more directly toward soil and water conservation.

Public funds are provided through ACP for a share of the cost of the work that is not feasible for farmers to carry out by themselves in their own interest. Many farmers also do a great deal of conservation work without cost-sharing assistance as a matter of good farming.

In Madison county last year farmers signed up for conservation work costing about $125,000, with about half borne by farmers themselves and half by public funds. Practices designed to conserve water and to dispose of excess water were carried out on about 200 farms.

Plan Group to Elect Directors Jan. 3rd

The Illinois Power Co. Illinois-Metro-East will elect a board of directors at a meeting at noon Tuesday at the Illinois club, East St. Louis.

Ballots have been sent to members and are to be returned by mail with postmarks no later than Jan. 3, along with completed applications for membership. Those preferring to vote at the meeting may do so if they have completed their applications, according to Chester L. Baker, temporary chairman.

Three candidates are to be elected from each of the Quad-Cities, Alton, Belleville, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville and Wood River areas.

Local candidates are: C. L. Baker, president of Tri-City Printing Co.; Harold Fischer, president of First Granite City National Bank; Ralph Morris III of Morris Realty and Sam Meyer, owner of Tri-City Tent & Awning Co.

The board will consist of 36 directors to serve three year terms. It will include one member from each of a permanent list of organizations.

GC Wants Street Light Replaced on 21st St.

Reinstallation of a street light at 21st street and Edwardsville road (Route 162) was called for by the Granite City council Monday night, and Steve Basarich, chairman of the Light committee, said a request for a light at the parking lot entrance to Lake school on East 23rd street was under study.

The light at 21st and Edwardsville road was removed several months ago when a sewer line was installed by Granite City. Street Co. is at its new treatment facilities at Horseshoe Lake. "It's just laying there and should be put back up," Basarich said.

City OKs Helicopter Landing at Hospital

Permission was given by Granite City council members for Dr. Overt Lay, physician, surgeon, to land his new helicopter on the roof at St. Elizabeth Hospital, provided approval is granted by the National Aeronautics Bureau.

While Earl Bloomquist, city building inspector, said the hospital roof would have to be strengthened with a landing platform and steel supports, the council gave its ok. Presently the helicopter is being landed on the city-owned block at the main fire station, 23rd and Iowa street.

Objections were raised by Alderman Edmund Bartosik, who said the council should wait for the approval of the federal agency before authorizing the use of the hospital roof. He pointed out the dangers to nearby residents, especially since high tension wires are in the vicinity of the hospital.

Hospital authorities are studying their insurance policies and the structure of the building roof.

The only allowance on the short bill list was $30 for December expenses paid to Alderman Moerlein.

12th Annual Granite City Press-Record Business Review and Forecast

Nineteen sixty-five . . . a good year for Quad-Cities, especially the first half of the year.

The virtually unanimous opinion of local industrial, financial, retail, utility, agricultural, planning and development authorities is tempered only by recognition that intense U. S. and foreign competition no longer permit production inefficiency. Several of the 29 articles in today's forecast discuss this challenge in detail.

Other needs cited include street widening projects, downtown area improvements, highway planning and expansion of recreational facilities. On the plus side, the Quad-Cities continue to offer ample industrial and residential land—zoned and flood-protected—with ideal transportation, proximity to markets and raw materials and skilled manpower. Population continues to move toward 100,000 by the early 1970s.

Gains of the past year have included major industrial expansions—in terms of both payroll and physical facilities—contributing to a building boom also aided by school and university construction, apartment buildings, homes, stores and sewer treatment works. Local harbor facilities have been expanded. National prosperity remains a helpful factor, particularly in regard to railroad products, and proposed tax cuts encourage optimism.

Examples of favorable developments which lie immediately ahead include the scheduled transfer of an Ohio maintenance mission to the Granite City Army Depot, contributing to a $1,500,000 civilian payroll rise; a $1,300,000 increase in Quad-City telephone capital spending; a second Port District bond issue to further improve cargo handling equipment; initial phases of the $140,000,000 Granite City Steel Co. expansion; assignment of 1200 National Guard members and reservists to the Army Depot during a three-month period this year; and opening of the new Southwestern Illinois University campus.

In sum, the outlook can be indicated by a single word—Progress.

Granite City Steel Company

By Nicholas P. Veeder, Board Chairman & President

Nineteen sixty-four was a record year for Granite City Steel in terms of steel production, tonnage of flat rolled steel products shipped to customers, and dollar volume of sales.

Profits did not reach the same high levels, although they improved over recent years. The steel business remained highly competitive as to quality and service.

The demand for steel in late December reflected a record rate of actual use plus an inventory buildup by steel users trying to protect themselves against the possibility of a steel industry strike next May 1.

The situation could have unfortunate economic consequences. The larger the stockpiles accumulated by steel users in this period, the more sharply they will eventually cut back on their orders if there is no strike, and the more heavily steel mills will have to curtail production.

Quality Essential
One thing is clear. The steel company which hopes to be running full later in 1965 had better be doing a good job satisfying customer insistence on quality throughout this entire period of almost demand.

Granite City Steel expects to start construction on the largest program of plant improvement in its history about March 1.

The program includes three major facilities: a basic oxygen furnace plant which will replace our open hearth shop with much faster, more efficient way of making steel; a fully computerized, 100,000-horsepower continuous hot strip mill, designed to be one of the largest and more powerful in the world; and a big continuous galvanizing line.

Significant Difference
It may appear that Granite City Steel is entering another period of rapid growth like the company experienced in the early 1960s. But there is a significant difference.

We were spending money in the 1960s in order to make and sell more steel and build a larger steel company. We were expanding and we could count on reasonably fast return on the capital invested in our plant.

We will be investing even more capital in the next three years for replacement, not expansion. We have to carry out this program because the steel industry is flat rolled steel business, where there is no room for any but the most modern and efficient steel plants.

Our competitors are building basic oxygen furnace plants, the most modern type of steel plant. We will be "dead ducks" a few years from now. Our competitors are using the method of making steel has so many advantages over the open hearth process there is no longer any comparison.

Required For Survival
The new continuous hot strip mill is also a matter of necessity of survival for Granite City Steel. We are moving into a new era in the rolling industry. The use of basic advances in mill design and controls.

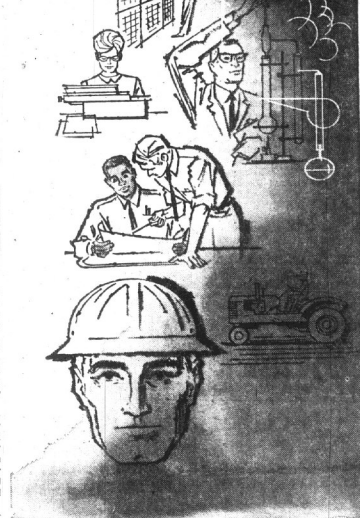

Steel users are insisting on larger and longer acid-free sheet and plate. They want their products rolled closer and closer to gauge. Our competitors are building new mills to satisfy the market, and our existing hot strip mill will be obsolete before many years have passed.

Old timers will remember the 1930s when that mill was installed. Granite City Steel was up against it in those days, too. The big companies we compete with were buying expensive new equipment to make better steel and reduce operating costs.

We needed the same equipment to remain in competition, but we first had to raise a staggering amount of capital in relation to the 1930s size of Granite City Steel.

And it was no more optional than it is today. Granite City Steel would long since have gone out of business if the late Hayward Niedringhaus, then president of our company, had failed to raise the money required to retool our plant.

No Guarantees For Future
We hope the new facilities of

Our 1965-1967 program will lead to new markets and another period of growth like that which came after the expenditures we made in the 1920s. However, there is no guarantee. All we can be sure of is that the American steel industry is in the midst of a big and costly revolution and we have no choice but to be revolutionary too.

The revolution is aimed at taking advantage of new technology to raise quality, lower costs and put the American steel industry in shape to compete with foreign steel companies, despite their vast advantages, and with steel materials like aluminum and plastics.

The cost of revolution in our industry is high, because improvements in technology require the building of tremendously large and complex facilities. American steel companies invested about $1,000,000,000 in new plant and equipment in 1964 alone.

Chicago Competition
A substantial part of that huge sum is paying for the construction of basic oxygen furnace plants and new hot strip mills in the Chicago area, less than 300 miles from Granite City.

Our most intensive competition originates in and around Chicago, where there are six big flat rolled steel plants.

United States Steel Corp. has its largest single plant at Gary, Ind., and Bethlehem Steel, the nation's No. 2 producer, is expanding a brand new rolling and finishing mill at Burns Harbor, while Bethlehem's salesmen serve their calls on customers served by Granite City Steel.

Urgent There Be No Delay
The Chicago mills were able to start on their new construction ahead of Granite City Steel. Our program must move along without delay from any cause.

Extensive Design Changes
Design changes for the 1965 model frames were the most extensive in several years. Many new tools and pieces of equipment had to be designed, fabricated, developed, and installed.

The late arrival of key tools and pieces of equipment handicapped the changeover.

To make matters more difficult, the customer required large quantities of 1964 frames right up to the end of the model year. Following this, schedules called for immediate deliveries of 1965 model frames.

The fast start-up required the hiring of many new persons—persons who had to be trained to operate machinery and to do many other jobs. The employees' adjustment to new equipment, new parts and new processes was slow and seriously affected the Granite City operation.

A new assembly line for the production of frames was very keen. A new assembly line for the standard 1964 Chevrolet model was set up at Milwaukee. To augment Granite City's two such lines in order to handle the additional business, The O. Smith changeover in Milwaukee

American Steel Foundries

By A. P. Steinhilber, Works Manager

The 1965 business year is bright for both the national economy and the Granite City plant of American Steel Foundries, Inc.

During 1964, demand for cast steel freight car components produced at the ASP Granite City plant was the heaviest since 1957. This strong demand is expected to continue into the first part of 1965, and we are hopeful that orders from the railroads will remain at a good pace throughout the year.

Several factors give foundation to this optimism:

(1) A healthy general economy which, in turn, bolsters railroad traffic.

(2) A better railroad financial picture.

(3) A trend toward larger, specialized freight cars . . . a trend which has attracted new business to the rails.

Rate Reforms Needed
However, in spite of these gains, our railroad customers still face serious challenges. Needed are additional rate reforms with respect to giving the railroads ability to compete with other forms of transportation.

There is also the matter of railroad mergers that must be consummated and approved.

Work rule controversies remain a problem.

Only when these issues are resolved on the railroad industry level, will speed ahead toward the modernization of its freight car fleet. Only then will the ASP Granite City plant feel the force of steady demand from a healthy railroad industry.

Rise in Freight Car Orders
The fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1964, was a good one for ASP.

In the year, the railroads ordered nearly $1,265,000 worth of freight cars nationally, up from 49,000 in fiscal 1963. There were 63,000 cars built during the year, compared with 59,000 a year earlier.

By maintaining up-to-date plant facilities and by continuing the largest engineering, test and development program in the railroad equipment industry, ASP was in a position to take care of this increased railroad demand, while many competitors could not.

This, in turn, enabled the ASP

Granite City plant to make a substantial contribution to the local economy. In the 1964 fiscal year, the ASP plant paid $8,500,000 to employees in wages and salaries, nearly double the $4,500,000 paid in 1963.

Employment Up 20%
The plant averaged more than 125 employees in the year, up from 89 a year earlier.

New products from ASP research laboratories helped stimulate this better business.

A new Ride-master freight car truck a truck which substantially cuts shock inside freight cars, was well accepted. Several hundred car sets are already in regular service.

A giant six-wheel truck developed by ASP for large, specialized freight cars, the first car set went into service in September under a huge, 150-ton capacity covered hopper car built for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. ACL officials said their car, nicknamed the "Whopper-Topper," was made possible by the ASP design.

Late in 1964 the company also introduced a four-wheel Ride Control truck designed to carry large freight cars with capacities up to 125 tons.

In the years ahead, ASP will maintain constant effort to better serve the railroads with quality products, new innovations and efficient production techniques.

This, in turn, enabled the ASP

General Steel Industries

By W. Ashley Gray Jr., President

General Steel Industries' Castings Division at Granite City has just completed one of the most active years in its history.

Following the consolidation here early this year of GSI's industrial castings operations, relatively high levels of production have been reached.

The foundry at Eldorado, Pa., formerly specializing in production of GSI's industrial castings, has been closed, providing an outstanding challenge to the Commonwealth plant to meet increased requirements of production.

Work Force Nearly Doubled
The Commonwealth plant is equipped to produce some 4500 tons of high quality engine castings per month, and the working force during the past year has been nearly doubled.

It should be recognized, however, that the consolidation of two separate large foundry operations is a complex task. In the coming months, the Granite City working force will need to develop new skills and become more expert in production of castings not previously made here.

There is good reason to believe that the market for GSI steel products will continue to be favorable, but the company's reputation for high quality castings must be maintained and consolidated production established on an efficient basis in order to remain competitive.

Rail Industrial Castings
Successful in New Market
While there have been some losses of orders for castings and severe competition for cast-steel flat cars developed by the level of production in the railroad industry, the outlook for GSI should be excellent, at least through the first six months.

Success in the National Rail Division near Pittsburgh, Pa., is excellent and prospects look very good at the Ludlow, Saylor and Flex-O-Late subsidiaries.

St. Louis Car is now producing 162 ultra-modern aluminum air conditioned rapid transit cars for the Port of New York Authority Trans-Hudson Corporation for Hudson line service between Manhattan and New Jersey.

Rapid Transit
Other orders, including large page and mail cars as well as passenger coaches for maritime service, will increase St. Louis Car's volume during the first months of 1965. If any of several pending orders for commuter and rapid transit cars is received, a continuing good level of activity at St. Louis Car is expected.

When production efficiency is increased at the Commonwealth plant, as it must be in coming months, the overall 1965 outlook for GSI should be excellent.

With the help of the more than 200 employees in the Granite City area, we shall strive to make solid progress in the year ahead.

Royal Crown Cola Company

By R. D. Phillips, Granite City Branch Manager

The Royal Crown Cola Company and concentrate plant here, which is an important facility of nationally-known Royal Crown Cola Company and the soft drink industry, expects increased sales volume and activity during 1965.

We, at Royal Crown Cola Company, feel the economic climate during the current year could be characterized as good; or, to put it another way, the economy of the United States has been on a high level. Most economic factors point to a continuation of a high-level economy and good business climate during 1965.

The stock market has had some decline in the last few weeks but the stock market has been at an extremely high level since the early part of this year. Some adjustment probably was in order.

Exactly five years ago, economists predicted that we were entering the "golden decade" and labeled the new era as the "searing sixties." This prediction failed to materialize during the first two years, but in 1965, corporate profits began to rise dramatically from a long plateau.

Soft drink industry case sales reflected the same pattern.

Per capita consumption of carbonated beverages began to record substantial increases above the 200 per capita figure in 1962 and 1963; per capita consumption of soft drinks reached 230 bottles per person in 1964.

We now seem to be headed firmly toward the predicted per capita figure of 250 bottles per person in the near future.

Johns-Manville Products Corp.

By W. L. Mitmore, Plant Manager

Asphalt roofing shipments out of the Madison plant for the year 1964 will exceed 1963 shipments by approximately 33%.

I anticipate that shipments and production at the Madison plant during the year 1965 will approximate the 1964 figures.

Employment is expected to remain fairly stable throughout the entire year 1965.

Inventory Building
The plant for the next several months will build inventory to take care of the heavy seasonal demand period of May through September. The building of inventory will tend to stabilize employment.

The local plant has an annual payroll of approximately $825,000. The plant also makes annual expenditures for approximately $100,000 for telephone, gas, electricity and so on.

The local plant, to round out the building material line, also warehouses fiber glass insulation, asbestos siding and roofing shingles, asbestos cement floor board and Black Line products.

REVIEW AND FORECAST

Bi-State Development Agency

By C. E. Townsend, Acting Chairman

The Bi-State Development Agency, as a working partner between private industry and governmental entities in the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan St. Louis area, views 1965 optimistically, with a firm belief in the continued growth of this region.

In its partnership role, the Agency is limited to self-liquidating projects or services that private enterprise and public agencies are either unwilling or unable to perform. That there has been a place in this metropolitan area (three counties in Illinois, three in Missouri and the city of St. Louis) for such an agency is attested by Bi-State activities on river and interstate air pollution, transportation and public transit, airports and harbor development.

Of particular interest in the Illinois sector of the bi-state area, and especially the Quad-Cities, is the Granite City Harbor, now in its 11th year, which has been directly associated with Bi-State's continuing efforts to solve transportation problems in this metropolitan region.

Economic Upswing

Existence of the harbor unquestionably has contributed to the substantial economic upswing in the Quad-Cities. It is a valuable asset in attracting new industries, as well as a plus factor for expansion of those already here, the most dramatic of which is, of course, the $140 million program recently announced by Granite City Steel Co. At the public wharf, a wide variety of other products also has been handled, all at water carrier rates.

Unlike other river terminals in this area, the Bi-State dock is unaffected by low river stages; it never has less than 18 feet depth. This was a major consideration in Bi-State's decision to enlarge the harbor facilities, a $350,000 project that was completed early in 1964. This expansion insures that the modern terminal for dry bulk commodities in the entire metropolitan St. Louis area.

Besides the "lift" given to local economy by the wharf and terminal, Bi-State feels that in the coming year its inland transit transportation system will tend to weed all sections of the metropolitan area. Since acquiring the 15 separate bus systems less than two years ago, 170 new, air-conditioned buses have been purchased at a cost in excess of $3 million.

This provides area residents with the largest fleet of air-conditioned buses in the nation, and should stimulate patronage so that still further improvements will be possible.

A byproduct of this transit unification has been the substantial wage increases granted to Illinois employees. This addition, at buying power is being reflected in all segments of the economy. Overall, the transit system provides employment for approximately 2,000 people.

Granite City Plan Commission

By David W. Morgan, Chairman

The Plan Commission was very active again this year. Many petitions were reviewed, some were approved and some were denied. The members of the commission, in all instances, voted for the way they thought was best for the community.

A proposal to update the Comprehensive Plan of the city is now before the city council. The present Comprehensive Plan is approximately eight years old. The growth of Granite City has already gone beyond the projected scope of the present plan. It is believed that revision of present zoning and subdivision ordinances will give a greater latitude to the various types of uses and more consideration can then be given to petitions for changes in zoning.

With the outstanding progress that the Port Authority is making, consideration will be given to developing industrial sites.

The plan should be a "boom year" in construction. The continuation of expansion programs in industry, starting of construction on new schools, additions to old schools, the 100 units for the elderly, new apartment buildings, new subdivisions and shopping centers should all be under way in 1965. This should greatly increase the economic condition of Granite City.

I think that a big step has been taken in pushing the widening of Nankook Street. Since Nankook road is one of the main arteries of the Urban Transportation Plan, which is being prepared for the state highway department, it would be a big step toward this plan of Nankook widening.

I believe the year of 1965 will be a big year for the city of Granite City from a point of expansion of its boundaries, population, industrial production and development.

This, we hope, will be an attraction for new industry to come into Granite City.

The next 12 months in this

National Lead Company

By Laurence F. Gerst, General Superintendent

The two National Lead Co. plants located in Granite City have enjoyed a good business year.

The Hoyt Metal Plant has experienced an increase in the demand for its products. Since the automobile industry, which requires solder and materials for the manufacture of batteries, have been operating at peak capacities.

Due to more leisure time, larger quantities of shot are being manufactured for shooting shells for hunting or sport and trap shooting. Shooting clubs are growing in number and it is estimated that by 1970, 800 trap fields, 800 steel fields and 400 practice fields will be in operation. Many of the practice fields are lighted for night shooting and are now operating on a year-round basis.

Bulk Shot Sales

A considerable number of these sportsmen are equipped with their own shells; consequently, bulk shot sales have been on the increase for the last few years, with an even greater demand expected in the future.

According to The Wall Street Journal, "It estimates that as many Americans will go shooting as will travel to the fairgrounds in 200,000,000."

In 1963, 20,675 tons of lead were expended in ammunition. The industry estimates that the total for 1964 will climb to 50,000 tons.

The Hoyt Plant, long a supplier of nuclear shielding, was awarded a contract for nuclear shielding on two more atomic powered submarines. Much of this work has been carried on to a diversified group of industries for use in shipping chemicals, paints, varnishes, waxes, glues and various powdered materials. Rising sales of these products have created an increased demand for shipping containers, and the Steel Package plant is enjoying a good year.

General business conditions appear good and steel activity for 1965 should continue at the 1964 level or higher, unless some unusual disturbing condition develops.

Business in the local area should continue to expand with all the necessary equipment, such as excellent available plant sites, with close railroad, waterway and highway facilities available for the receiving of raw materials as well as the shipping of finished products. Labor relations in the area have been good during the past years, which should assist in attracting new industry.

We look to the future with optimism for expansion and feel that National Lead Co. will continue to grow along with other progressive industries, both locally and nationally, during 1965.

As imports of foreign steel have climbed rapidly in the last few years, we believe a wage increase at this time is commercially. Already, approximately 50,000 steelworkers have lost their jobs due to the inroads of

New Job Opportunities

The year 1965 should be a broadening of Bi-State Agency services in both Illinois and Missouri. In Illinois, acquisition and reopening of Parks Metropolitan Airport, at a cost of $3 million, is scheduled for April 1.

This modern, general aviation facility will, again in the Bi-State concept, fill a void not possible in any other way. Besides serving business planes and private flyers, in itself an economic "shot in the arm," it is bound to attract sizable industrial development, with new jobs and new job opportunities.

In Missouri, the widening of the Gateway Arch embankment, another Bi-State project slated for 1965, that of a $3,000,000 transit system to carry sightseers to the top of the 630-foot Arch. While located in St. Louis, there undoubtedly will be a number of Quad-Cityans who will want to enjoy this breath-taking view.

During 1965, the port will continue its efforts to establish other projects that will aid economic development, as well as assist in studies such as the Interstate Air Pollution Survey and the Comprehensive Transportation Planning Process.

Both are necessary if this community and the bi-state region are to grow in competition with other metropolitan areas.

Created in 1949 by Illinois and Missouri legislatures, with the approval of Congress, Bi-State has no taxing power. As stated before, must fill a need that cannot be met by private enterprise or other public bodies.

The 10 commissioners, five from Illinois and five from Missouri, who serve without remuneration by appointment of their respective governors, began their official duties in 1965 to this Agency concept and to the welfare of the people who live and work here.

Associated Retailers & Civic Association

By Bernard S. Miller Sr., President

The future of this community is based on the people of this area.

The proposal is that there will be a continuation of prosperity, an enlargement of the scope of activities that cause an upflow in all the branches of industry and retailing.

The civic committee promoting the changeover of the old post office location into a memorial park or monument with federal aid and park board supervision—should make a beautiful park with flowers and shrubs. It is a part of the old circle park of early Granite City.

Other needs are:

Parking, Street Widening

An increase in the number of downtown parking areas. Widening of State street from 22nd to 27th streets.

Continuation of the 27th street parkway to Madison Avenue.

Building of a new police station to replace the old one, allowing for much-needed police quarters and parking space.

An increase in the size of the police department.

And no further delay in the widening of Nankook road through the Nankook area to allow a better flow of traffic to the shopping areas.

Be industrious, and "industry will grow."

Tri-City Regional Port District

By Carl A. Rault, Chairman

As the year 1964 comes to a close it marks the completion of the Tri-City Regional Port District's first terminal projects on the Chain of Rocks Canal.

The present completed facilities consist of three pumping installations, sludge plants, rail and truck loading facilities, liquid tank storage, access roads and access railroads.

The first cargo handling across the Tri-City Regional Port District docks occurred in the middle of December 1964. As this stage of the project ends, the completion of minor work in the first contracts can be expected.

The terminal facility should be complete, and the first cargo handling for all types of liquid cargo to and from midwest industry in the spring of 1965. This is fortunate to have a backlog of prospective new industry and new plants to be built, which in potential far exceeds that of any previous January.

The Port has been in existence.

Second Bond Issue

Present plans call for the Port to enter the market with a new bond issue during 1965 that will produce new terminals and new basic cargo handling facilities for the Port's future marketing and producing area.

Prospects look exceedingly bright for the Port to consummate and locate new industries that have been the subject of extensive negotiation and planning over the past two years.

The Tri-City Regional Port District, working in close cooperation with the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce, the Alton Chamber of Commerce, the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has been fortunate in developing a number of projects that it appears can be launched during this calendar year to bring new industries into Granite City.

Laclede Steel Company

By W. M. Akin, President

Steel production for the first half of 1965 will continue to be high. Production in the last half of the year, however, is difficult to predict, as the effect of the steel industry labor negotiations and market conditions are too distant.

One noteworthy difference that will take place in steel labor negotiations this year over past negotiations is the emphasis that will be placed upon local issues.

It now looks as if these issues are to be resolved first; then wage and fringe benefits are to be decided on later. As a result, we may expect a higher level of some steel markets, as isolated steel plants could have work stoppages after May 1.

The serious impact that additional wage and fringe benefits would have on our national economy should be kept in mind. We have six hundred thousand steelworkers in this country now, and they already are the highest paid large group of workers in the world.

Foreign Competition

The cost of labor represents about 40% of the price of steel mill products. The modern mills of Europe and Japan pay only a fraction of our labor cost and enjoy practically a tax-free situation in their countries.

Pipe, wire and bars are the products that have been severely injured by foreign imports. Consequently, comparatively little flat rolled products have come in as imports of foreign steel.

As imports of foreign steel have climbed rapidly in the last few years, we believe a wage increase at this time is commercially. Already, approximately 50,000 steelworkers have lost their jobs due to the inroads of

Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals

By Howard W. Kaseberg, Chairman

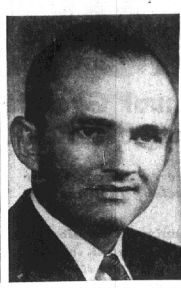

Although the zoning ordinance for unincorporated areas of Madison county has been in effect for less than two years, it has already proven its value to our community.

Signs of more orderly development and enhanced property values are becoming more evident. Many people who were skeptical or opposed to zoning at the outset are now speaking in favor of the ordinance.

A recently published summary of economic and industrial growth in Madison county, as compared to surrounding counties having no zoning, shows a greatly accelerated rate of gain in new industry in Madison county.

Attracting New Jobs

This zoning has provided a very positive factor for attracting new industry to our area.

Mr. Kaseberg, chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, is shown here.

As with all new ordinances, the zoning law as adopted was not without some defects. At the present time a committee of the County Board of Supervisors is meeting with representatives of various groups in the county seeking most correcting these defects by amendments to the ordinance.

It is hoped that, at an early date, an amendment will be adopted which will more perfectly tailor this ordinance to the specific needs of our county.

Furthermore, it is believed that wholehearted cooperation between the new zoning administrator, the Board of Appeals and all citizens of the county will strengthen the effectiveness of the ordinance to the mutual benefit of us all.

Granite City Board of Realtors

By Ray M. Kaegel, President

The real estate picture here is a clear one, with prospects for some really great years ahead.

The Tri-Cities stand on the threshold of one of their greatest growth years since 1965 on into the '70s.

There will be no end of speculation on the part of the real estate industry as to what the future will bring. Rising incomes make it possible for many families to upgrade their housing.

The trend to higher quality may help to offset quantitative weaknesses that may occur until the late '60s when there will be hundreds of young families looking for shelter.

Price-Value

The pre-owned home market in 1965 shapes up in the following ways. Prices this past year have leveled out and should remain stable for most of this coming year.

The demand for properties, realistically priced, should move. Higher priced property, although the potential home market, should be in good demand, especially if located in desirable areas.

The trend to move back to the city, where more services are provided, persists. Another factor is the increasing cost of city limits will be the equalization of taxes between the city and the suburbs, which has begun to take place.

New home market indicators show a demand level upward, with prices slightly above 1964 levels. This situation arises from the fact that new home construction is demanding more amenities in new construction.

Value, not surface gimmicks, is the potential home market of today. Builders are having to provide specific motivations to buy—better reasons to buy.

Homes Much Improved

The day of the flashy, gaudy, over-the-top sale is gone. More and more, builders are turning to carefully planned land areas and sales campaigns.

Naturally, the Port will continue to improve national economic picture. The Tri-City Port can reasonably expect to make extensive strides in completing a substantial portion of its projects during the calendar year of 1965.

With the continued assistance and cooperation of local industry, Chambers of Commerce and others interested in the Madison county area, the continued improved national economic picture, the Tri-City Port can reasonably expect to make extensive strides in completing a substantial portion of its projects during the calendar year of 1965.

During 1964, for the first time in the history of the Tri-City Port, there have been graced with several apartment buildings. There has been a great demand for this type of construction.

There are several more multi-family buildings planned for the area in 1965 to take care of the ever-increasing population.

As these multi-family projects are completed, prospective homeowners will be looking longer and harder as apartments and single-family homes compete.

Potential customers will not make a change until they are really sold. Marketing experts say that this will influence the trend in sales in new home construction away from the "institutional approach, where mere unimproved land has proved less and less effective.

Another factor favoring the building of multi-family dwelling units in the future is the ever-increasing cost of building sites. A few years ago, you could buy an average size lot for approximately $1500. Today, you cannot purchase the same lot for less than $2500.

With land prices this high, even a small, inexpensive house becomes expensive. If this spiraling cost continues, the little hope that it will not—few of the young families who are looking for housing in the late 1960s will be able to afford a house.

Therefore, an even greater number of multi-family units are expected to be built in 1965.

Reilly Tar & Chemical Corporation

By K. J. Morrison, Plant Manager

Once again the time has rolled around to bring out the crystal ball, dust it off and try to obtain a glimmer of what the future may hold for us.

To what will transpire within the coming 12 months.

Crystal balls seem to have a way of clouding up and becoming difficult to decipher. Practically all sportsforecasters run into this identical problem.

It is the same in the business of the baseball games, and in the fall the outcome of the football games.

After reviewing the outcome of the crystal ball's reliability of last year, it was most gratifying to find that it may have some justification. With this behind, we therefore, plunge to the following predictions.

First Half Boom

The first half of 1965 should have all the indications of a good year. Production and shipments should be at an all-time high and, consequently, employment at an extremely high level. After a third quarter slackening off period, I would expect business to accelerate to a high level for the remaining quarter.

During the past year, business has been exceptionally good. Because of this and our expectations for 1965, it was necessary to expand our distillation facilities by approximately 30%.

This construction work is rapidly nearing completion, and all units are expected to be in full operating capacity about the first of the year.

During the past year, we have seen many of our valued employees retire and have welcomed, in turn, new employees to our ranks—in the number of those retired, and beyond to fill the job opportunities occasioned by the plant expansion.

We have every expectation of maintaining a stable employment throughout the coming year, and expectations are that we shall increase employment.

Union Starch & Refining Company

By B. J. Hunter, Vice-President of Manufacturing

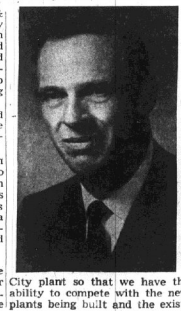

Production at Union Starch & Refining Company's Granite City plant reached another new high in 1964, though profits continued to be depressed due to increased production costs and the continuing unsatisfactory relationship between corn costs and selling prices.

Anticipate that the demand for products from our Granite City plant will approach our capacity in 1965.

We expect competition from other plants in our industry to be as intense as it has been in 1964. Modern, efficient plants are being built by competitors next year in Iowa and Indiana which may affect further reduction in prices of our finished products.

Operating Efficiency

All of the above factors make it necessary that we direct our efforts toward improving the operating efficiency of the Granite plants being built and the existing plants which are continually making improvements.

Our capital expenditures in 1965 will practically all be for the replacement and modernization of our present facilities. All of this will be directed toward making our plant a better place to work and a more efficient operating unit.

We are not pleased with our results in 1964, however, we look forward to 1965, and hope that we can improve our position in

St. Louis District Corps of Engineers

By Col. James B. Meador Jr., District Engineer

For many generations the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has had the privilege of serving the nation in the construction of major civil works projects as directed by Congress.

Many of these projects have long been so much a part of the American scene that few people stop to realize that they have not always been present. To envision our country without some of these well-known assets only engenders appreciation.

Improved inland waterways, the Military Academy at West Point, our National Capitol Building, Panama Canal, Washington Monument, Walter Reed Hospital and the Pentagon are examples of trust which has permitted the Corps of Engineers to serve the people.

The region of the St. Louis Engineer District is not without some of these outstanding projects.

Water Resources
The broad objective of the civil works program is the full and efficient utilization and conservation of the nation's water resources.

Pursuant to this objective, the St. Louis Engineer District currently is working on continuing construction projects having a value of some $50,000,000.

During 1965, some of these works will be completed while others will make significant advances through the investigation, planning or construction stages. We then look forward to what is in store for water resource development in our St. Louis region.

Construction Forecast
During the period July 1964 through June 1965, work amounting to $27,870,000 was accomplished through the 26,000 square miles in the St. Louis Engineer District.

The amount of $187,000 is allocated for use during the year for general investigations. In view of the magnitude and scope of the water resource development program now underway in this district, a thumbnail sketch of each project follows to give a picture in depth as to the magnitude, progress, status and benefits involved.

Carlyle Reservoir
The Carlyle Dam and Reservoir is located about 50 miles east of St. Louis on Highway 50 near Carlyle, Ill., on the Kaskaskia River. The reservoir is a part of the general plan for the development of the Kaskaskia River Basin. The dam is a 600-foot-long, 67-foot high earthfill structure with gated concrete spillways.

The reservoir will create a lake having 26,000 surface acres and a storage capacity of one acre-foot which will be allocated to flood control, navigation, water supply, fish and wildlife conservation, and recreation.

The completed project will afford major flood protection to about 75,000 acres of alluvial valley lands in the Kaskaskia River Basin, and will provide a dependable water supply for 26 local communities. Construction on the $40,000,000 project was initiated in November 1958 and is now 62% complete.

During 1964-65 additional work amounting to $8,280,000 will bring the project to 77% of completion.

Joanna Dam
The Joanna Dam and Reservoir, sometimes referred to as the Mark Twain or Cannon Reservoir, will be located about 63 miles above the mouth of the St. Louis River, which empties into the Mississippi River above Louisiana, Mo.

The project was authorized as a multi-purpose project for flood control, hydro-power, navigation, water supply, recreation, and fish and wildlife conservation. Pre-construction planning was initiated in 1963 and is scheduled to be completed this fiscal year. The reservoir, when completed, will provide flood protection to about 27,500 acres in the Mississippi River Basin.

Construction of the $40,000,000 project was initiated in November 1958 and is now 62% complete. During 1964-65 additional work amounting to $8,280,000 will bring the project to 77% of completion.

Remedial Work
The project involves construction of some 11 miles of levees and floodwalls, 26 pumping plants and 44 sewer systems along the St. Louis riverfront extending southward from Marine Creek to Chippewa street.

The project involves numerous major projects and includes the construction of highway and railroad crossings. These works will protect the industrial complex against the record flood which would now produce a stage of 52 feet on the St. Louis gauge. When this project is completed in 1968, it will constitute one of the largest and most comprehensive flood protection works of its kind in the United States.

Construction of the project was started in 1959 and was 42% complete as of Sept. 30, 1964. The estimated Federal cost is $85,600,000.

Quincy Flood Protection
During the fiscal year beginning in July 1964, $8,750,000 will be expended on the project, bringing it to 51% completion.

Quincy Flood Protection
The project involves construction or alteration of 20 miles of levees and floodwalls, 10 new pumping stations and alteration of four existing stations. When this project is completed in 1966, it will provide protection against floods up to 52 feet on the St. Louis gauge for 111 square miles of business, industrial, and residential areas, including the cities of East St. Louis, Granite City, Madison, Venice, Brooklyn, Fairmount and Monsanto.

The project was 95% complete as of Sept. 30, 1964. Estimated Federal cost of this project is $23,800,000 and construction amounting to $165,000 will bring the project to 95% completion.

Richland Creek
The Richland Creek in the north central part of St. Clair county, Ill., empties into the Kaskaskia River. Congress has authorized channel improvements for flood control, which include straightening, clearing and enlarging the present channel, and widening existing bridge openings.

The Federal project cost is estimated at $5,400,000.

Barge Navigation
The Kaskaskia Navigation Project involves navigation improvements in the lower 50 miles of the Kaskaskia River, between the Mississippi River and Fayetteville, Ill.

The project was authorized by the 87th Congress and $400,000 was made available to continue preconstruction planning in 1965. It calls for the attainment of a channel nine feet deep and 200 feet wide, to be accomplished by dredging, overbank cutoffs, and one lock and dam. The project also involves alteration of bridges and utility crossings, and other remedial works in the stream.

Purpose is to serve as a barge transportation media to permit waterway movement of vast coal deposits to markets on the Mississippi waterway system. Total cost of the project is estimated at $66,200,000.

Love Reconstruction
J. McGee Creek Drainage and Love District, Illinois, is located on the right bank of the Illinois River about 20 miles south of Beardstown.

The project involves reconstruction of 16 miles of levees, construction of one new pumping plant, and one new levee. It will provide protection to 18,800 acres of agricultural land.

A significant capital expenditure again will be made by Illinois Power Co. to expand our electric and natural gas facilities in keeping with the expected growth of the area.

Granite City Trust & Savings Bank

By Ernest A. Karandjoff, President

The economy of the Tri-Cities was in an extremely healthy condition at the close of 1964.

Our plants are expanding their physical properties and their payrolls.

Sales of retail goods were at an all-time high.

Unemployment was at an all-time low, excluding perhaps the war years.

Economic Revolution
Again, on a national basis, the economy was in excellent condition, sparked by the general economic revolution of the income tax cut at a time of federal budget deficit.

Again, on a national basis, it is expected that the 1965 Gross National Product will increase about 6% compared to 1964's estimated increase of approximately 7%.

This prosperity will undoubtedly be seen in the Tri-Cities. It is quite possible that our level of economic activity will be sustained at the nation's whole.

We here at Granite City Trust pledge our unstinting effort to

May we all prosper spiritually as well as financially in the year to come.

Nationally, the economy movement will continue the upward trend which has been in effect quarterly results as reported by the Department of Commerce.

Strikes in the automobile industry and threatened strikes in other lines have dampened and will continue to dampen optimism.

Because of the steady state of spending, with increased government intervention in, or manipulation of, the economy, the momentum of government expansion will proceed with a faith in an agency of the government can solve social-economic problems which free enterprise is considered unable to solve.

Prosperity For Local Area
Although our local and metropolitan economy is slowly tied to national and international developments, this area has such a wide diversification of industries and services, plus local growth factors, that prosperity for all in this area will become the byword for 1965.

New Unit At Plant
An adequate supply of electricity is assured for years to come with the completion during the year of a new 385,000 generating unit at our Wood County Power Plant.

Another project completed during the year is the remodeling of our commercial office building which enables us to operate with greater efficiency.

Too, we are pleased to add a bright, modern facade to downtown Granite City.

Natural Gas Expansion
During the new year we will also extend our natural gas facilities as required. Most existing communities or subdivisions which we will add will have it, and arrangements have been made for an ample supply of gas.

The momentum established for this area leads us to believe that with the expansion plans already announced and additional projects contemplated, 1965 will be a busy year for the Tri-Cities and Illinois Power Co.

REVIEW AND FORECAST

First Granite City National Bank

By Harold R. Fischer, President

The 1965 forecasting derby is again in full swing; never easy, but this year another factor must be added to the mix.

The full impact of the 1964 income tax cut will not be known until early spring.

The dollar amount of personal income available for consumers' spending will be an unknown factor until each citizen determines how accurately 1964 income tax and withholding estimates were made.

It is time to take a final hard look at the prospects for the year ahead.

New Industries Foreseen
There is considerable activity in securing industrial site options in the farms adjacent to Granite City and, very soon, many interesting and expensive announcements will be made of new industries. This will again materially affect and improve our economy.

The recent one of the most important announcements affecting this Tri-Cities community was the Granite City Steel Company's announced $150,000,000 program. This will provide work for many months during the construction stage, and will further improve the attractive factors influencing other industries using flat plate to move to Granite City.

Employment in this area is up approximately 2% over a year ago, and it will continue to rise as many of the announced programs become reality and construction starts.

Nineteen sixty-five will witness more and more people recognizing the potential of this great area, both as a desirable place of residence and business expansion. I am confident we will look ahead with assurance of an expanding economy providing for a successful 1965.

Madison County Farm Advisor

By Truman W. May

Farm income in 1965 is likely to be maintained at about the same level as in the past year, according to the report of the annual outlook conference of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, held in Washington just a couple of weeks ago.

With further gains in employment and personal income, a stronger demand is expected for food as well as other goods and services. Also, opportunities for off-farm income should improve—an important factor in this area.

In spite of the apparent leveling off in cattle numbers, a further increase in cattle slaughter is expected in 1965, though much smaller than that which occurred during 1964. During the first half of 1964, marketing will depend largely on the number and weight of cattle placed on feed during the fourth quarter.

Feeder cattle prices have remained fairly steady since spring, at a level $3-$4 below year ago despite the marked improvement in feed cattle prices since midyear. The current price relationship between feeder cattle and the fattened slaughter animals probably will continue a large number to be placed on feed during the remainder of this year.

Primarily because of the lower prices for feeder animals, however, farmers probably will realize moderately higher returns from cattle feeding during the coming year as compared with the highly unfavorable results in 1964.

Pork Supplies Lower
Hog producers enjoyed slightly more favorable prices during the second half of 1964 than the year-ago period, reflecting somewhat smaller pork supplies. The improvement is expected to continue well into 1965 in response to a further reduction in per capita pork supplies.

Feed costs in the coming year probably will average somewhat higher. But considering both costs and gross income, profit prospects from hogs in 1965 appear to be more favorable than in the past two years.

Poultry and egg production expanded during 1964 and prices to producers averaged somewhat lower. Further increases in the output of broilers, turkeys and eggs are in prospect for 1965 with the larger production of turkeys and eggs likely to cause further price declines. The expansion in broiler production, however, may be small and anticipated strengthening in demand may result in some price improvement.

Improved Dairy Situation
The dairy situation during 1964 has been characterized by the first improvement in cash receipts since 1961. Prices for slightly improved prices along with a somewhat larger volume of marketings.

Milk production in 1965 will probably about equal the nearly

GRESS REVIEW AND FORECAST

Tri-City Grocery Company

By S. E. Pershall Jr., President

Nineteen sixty-four was certainly a banner year by all economic standards. All forecasts have been for this trend to continue into 1965. I can see no reason for any slowdown to come about during 1965.

Income taxes and corporation taxes will be lowered again during 1965, which should help to continue the economic momentum. There is also talk of cutting excise taxes, which may help the economy.

The average income is at an all-time high, as well as fringe benefits being higher than ever before. This trend will no doubt continue into 1965.

The Tri-City Grocery Co. had about the same amount of volume during 1964 as in 1963. The net profit picture was also about the same.

Sites Being Studied
We opened a new supermarket during 1964, an 18,700-square-foot store in Mt. Vernon, Ill. We also extensively redeveloped our North Alton, Ill., super market, adding about 30% more space at this location. We do not have any new supermarkets planned at the present time for 1965, but we are actively exploring sites in Illinois and Missouri.

We would expect our volume to be somewhat better in 1965 and we also hope for an improvement in our net profit, which we know will be met for which,

Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce

By Carl E. Mathias, President

Volumes have been written predicting the economic growth for 1965. The Tri-Cities area would be one of the more pleasant areas to consider. The area is a forecast, since present information leads to a favorable forecast for 1965.

Manufacturing by heavy industry is exceeding 1963 production by 7%. It seems apparent that in general, 1964 will be a record for production in heavy industry.

Construction will probably be at an all-time high and railroad requirements—while below the immediate post-war peak, have made and will continue to make a fine recovery. This is demonstrated by a number of the industries which have announced programs of expansion. A few of our industries making such announcements are Granite City Steel and General Steel Industries, Inc.

Sustained Consumer Demand
With the anticipated expansion and growth of heavy industry, light industry will have an expanding business climate. National indicators predict a sustained but comparatively moderate rise in consumer demand.

The absence of excessive inventory accumulation in the Tri-Cities outlays by business for plant and equipment will help with labor costs as well as most other costs rising rapidly.

The Quad-Cities area continues to grow industrially as well as commercially. A. O. Smith has expanded and added substantially to their labor force. The coming Granite City Steel Co. improvements and expansion program are sure to be a great help to the Quad-Cities economic picture.

University Impact
Construction on the Southern Illinois University campus is well under way and, upon completion, will certainly enrich the Quad-City area culturally as well as economically.

The opening of Grant's variety store, the largest I understand in their chain, bears proof of this community's faith in the stability and spending power of the Quad-Cities residents.

Although not located in the Quad-Cities, I feel that the development of Pikes Airport into a major airport will show very good results for our area.

It would seem to me that 1965 should be a very good year for the Quad-Cities and its residents.

Southwestern Illinois Area Planning Commission

By Alton W. May

Each year I have felt like Polyanna in reasserting my belief in what I still consider an inevitable economic and population explosion for our area. No one could stop this, even if they wanted to.

Whether we get the most out of it is the matter in question. We can sit and let happenstance govern, or we can carefully plan and increase our benefits proportionally.

Planning is a relative thing. We can go on planning endlessly, but unless we suggest our plans by appropriate action—unless we follow them as closely as possible—we will have lost much.

Courage Of Convictions
Somewhere, somewhere, we must acquire the courage of our convictions and proceed to put our plans and theories into action.

Without giving up our right to compete, we must temper our natural tendency toward self-aggrandizement and work for the common good. We must lose the prevalent attitude that if I have only one plan, the gain is not through our way, we will not allow any gain at all. In other words, in order to gain the most for all, we must perform at least a few unselfish community oriented acts. I have no infallible formula. I have only hope.

Although sources of additional funds have been explored, a $500,000 target has been set for a new Granite/City grade school in instructional given to those participating in planning the building, destined for a site on a Mayville road extension south of Stratford lane. Supp. Russell D. Johnson has reported.

But the economy emphasis has not halted efforts to inject an imaginative approach into the design.

It is also planned to keep a new junior high school within the $1,300,000 voted by school district residents. In approving preparation of detailed plans and specifications, the school board has noted that $37,000 be added to the junior high fund and $50,000 to the grade school construction money.

It may be necessary to trim the grade school capacity from the projected 400 or 450 to 300 pupils, and the junior high school from 750 to an enrollment of 600 students, eighth and ninth grades.

School-Park Cooperation
Unique aspects of the new elementary school will include its location within a park, the park land, and facilities will be utilized by the school during the September-June term, and the school will be available for the park recreation program in the summer months.

Land for the school was obtained by swapping part of the present Proberts grade school campus to the park district, which will develop a neighborhood park and playground.

Other innovations in the new grade school will include cafeteria dining space separate from a 20-foot-high gymnasium. In many schools, youngsters eat in the gymnasium, and this is regarded as serious problems under such arrangements—and there is required capacity and flexibility.

The gym and cafeteria will be part of a "recreational, physical education and community center" of the elementary school. The community center will be designed so that it can be used at night or on weekends when the rest of the school is locked.

Other cores will be administrative, kindergarten-primary, intermediate, upper grade, special education and service.

Features of the plan include greater storage and restroom space, site development for play purposes, parking and safety arrangements, a teacher center and work area and emphasis on "beauty and permanency."

Current and future plans for the school, some depending on the level of construction bids, include:

Convertible rooms for team teaching and large group instruction, carpet areas in primary and kindergarten rooms, an instructional materials center, central library, air-conditioning, a public address system, closed circuit television, space for overhead projectors, a loading dock for service facilities, portable stage, sheltered play area, art and science room for projects by small groups, a nature study area and half-size special education rooms.

Granite City Army Depot

By Col. Charles B. Schweitzer, Commanding Officer

My first five months as Depot commander have been busy and interesting ones, and I am looking forward to calendar year 1965 with considerable enthusiasm.

Since my return here, I have seen impressed by the importance of the Depot to the total defense effort and the high caliber of the employees.

The relationships with the community have been outstanding, and I know that in the year to come this understanding will be continued at its high level.

During 1964, we absorbed a part of the Army supply mission formerly assigned to the Memphis Depot, and we welcomed those employees who elected to move with their jobs to this area. This shift in responsibility was the result of a carefully considered Department of Defense plan to reduce the number of military installations.

Ohio Mission Moving Here
During the coming year, a maintenance mission will likewise be moved to Granite City from the Depot at Port Clinton, Ohio.

This means that our workload for the year will probably increase slightly, and our level of employment will not change substantially.

The civilian payroll will increase about $1.5 million over last year, which should bring us up to a figure of approximately $5.5 million.

The military payroll will be approximately $1.7 million for the year.

We anticipate expending $4.5 million for supplies, services and equipment to support the Depot's operation. Of this figure, it is estimated that over one-third, or $3 million, will be spent locally.

Troop Field Training
The troops stationed at the Depot have had an active year. In addition to their on-the-job training at the Depot, the Soldiers have participated in field training tests and maneuvers, including the well-publicized Desert Desert Strike held in the Southwest and in Goldfire I, which was conducted recently in the Ozarks.

Plans are now under way for certain Depot troops to participate in similar field operations which serve to evaluate our country's military preparedness.

Confirmation has been received that the Depot will again be the site for training a large number of the Army's Support and Maintenance units in six different periods between the end of May and the middle of August.

If this plan is implemented, there will be approximately 1200 soldiers training over a three-month period, and they will spend an estimated $150,000 in the local community.

Dow Metal Products Company

By Gerhard Ansel, Plant Manager

There was improved performance at The Dow Chemical Company's Madison operations during 1964.

Total productivity approximated the eighty-million-pound level, with production of aluminum averaging about sixty per cent aluminum and forty per cent magnesium.

As predicted at the start of 1964, much of this volume was for military applications, such as aircraft landing gear and other articles of portable military shelters.

Commercial Market Expansion
Concomitantly, there has been an expansion in the commercial market, with new customers both in extruded and in coil products. We are pleased with the increases in volume of the engraving sheet for the printing industry, and with our contribution in the automotive transmission parts business.

Other significant factors are the supplying of aluminum pipe for use at missile launch sites, and large press extrusions for food freezing industry.

These accomplishments were possible only through the continued, energetic efforts of all personnel.

Products For Railroads
The picture for military business in 1965 is unclear, but we expect increases in both rolled and extruded products for the railroad industry. A limiting factor on commercial applications continues to be the problem of competitive pricing.

The aluminum industry is and has been plagued by price erosion, though some stability is seen, and we are hopeful of enough recovery to permit more rapid expansion in commercial lines.

The Madison plant's employment held at about normal throughout most of the year, and this same level is anticipated for the new year. We look forward with encouragement to 1965, confident that Dow-Madison people will demonstrate that they can handle the larger volumes of metal which our sales program is developing.

$312,973 Public Aid Given County Residents

Illinois public aid totaling $312,973 was provided to 6761 Madison county residents during October, according to Harold O. Swank, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Amounts and number of persons in the various programs include old age assistance, $85, 183 and 925; aid to dependent children, $177,280 and 4418; blind assistance, $4119 and 49; disability assistance, $34,846 and 412; and general assistance, $20, 445 and 527.

Swank said public aid rolls declined in the state in October by 322 persons from the previous month to 412,703 from 416,228, with substantial reductions registered to the aid to dependent children and general assistance programs.

Public aid expenditures for the month in the state totaled $24, 313,339, compared to $23,954,262 in September and $22,713,363 in October of last year.

They are Thomas Holgrave, 18, son of Mrs. Alvin Holgrave, 2429 Washington avenue; Daniel Bulkoich, 18, son of Mrs. Alice Bulkoich, 2319 Holmes avenue; and Wayne Lerner, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Lerner, 2405 Edwards street. All are 1964 graduates of Granite City high school.

Following basic training, they will be assigned to a technical job on the "aero space team," Sgt. Welch said, adding that they enlisted to take advantage of the Air Force education program.

Jr. Achiever Members Attend Jamco Conclave

Two members of the Granite City Junior Achievement center attended the annual JAMCO management conference Sunday through Wednesday at the Statler-Hilton hotel, St. Louis.

Among 600 achievers from a 10-state region at the meet are Charlotte Hanks, 2029 Stratford lane, and Suzanne Humphreys, 2134 Woodlawn avenue. Both are seniors at Granite City high school.

Miss Hanks is secretary of Junior Achievement and Humphreys is a member of Delightful. Both achiever firms meet Wednesday evenings and are counseled by employees of Granite City Steel Co.

The delegation was limited this year as fewer facilities were available at the Statler than at the Chase, where the conference was held last year.

The next regional activity will be the 13th annual coronation ball to be held Jan. 29 in the Chi-Ross room of the Chase.

Representing the local center as a maid and candidate for Miss Junior Achievement is Miss Vicki Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry A. Duncan, 3246 Franklin avenue.

Named Hall Secretary Christmas Spirit Invades Dog World at Arlington

The spirit of Christmas apparently has invaded the animal world of a dog named Pierre, owned by the William Turner family at the Arlington Heights subdivision.

In contrast to the tradition that "there was no room in the inn," Pierre gave up his dog house to a strange female dog.

She succeeded to give birth to 12 pups on Monday. Pamela Jean Turner, 11-year-old student at Sacred Heart school, left no doubt that it was an "act of charity" on the part of Pierre.

Christmas Spirit Invades Dog World at Arlington

Being a good watchdog, Pierre doesn't bother the pups and chase away other curious animals and persons.

There was a moment of fear on the part of the Turner children after the dogs were born, the mother, left, and the children were afraid "the pups would Pierre gave up his dog house to a strange female dog."

Extra warmth is provided in the dog house to straw which was left over from a manger scene at school.

The Turner family has no idea as to the owner of the mother dog. They moved to the new subdivision about three weeks ago. She was described as being past middle age.

The petite blonde, who is a graduate of Granite City high school, has raced in the eighth, ninth and quarter mile events at the Alton dragway, Nashville drag strip, Pacific Mo. drag strip, and the Tri-City dragway. She won trophies at the last three outings.

Though modest about her achievements when her records are compared with those of men, she says that "this idea of male superiority is a big farce."

Discuss Farm Land Phase of Zoning

Madison county Farm Bureau officials and representatives of the county zoning board met Monday night to discuss county zoning regulations that will soon be in effect, or dwellings used for agricultural purposes.

Attending were Harold Heep-ke, Charles C. Loech and Frank Thomas of the Farm Bureau and Sidney S. Schaefer, chairman of the zoning committee, Howard Kaseberg, Jack Clifford and members of the committee.

Public education on divisions and phases of the zoning ordinance was discussed. It was pointed out that too many persons are inclined to find fault with the zoning ordinance while their trouble might lie in only one of the many divisions of the ordinance.

At the organization, the group pointed out three major divisions of the ordinance: the zoning code, pertaining to land use and in the placement of structures on land; the subdivision code; and the building code; the building code-pertains to the actual physical structure of the building.

The zoning committee is to meet Monday with a group of industrial representatives to discuss the zoning ordinance.

Alderwoman Will Float Loan to Pay For Printing Book

A controversy developed this week over the council-sponsored publication of a legislative manual, "Beitner's Progress," by the People of Granite City.

Several aldermen expressed concern over the city's financial condition, and the council declined to approve the publication of the book.

Beitner's Progress is a book which she heard of the complaints and plans to pay for the book with a personal loan with a local bank to pay the $175 printing cost. "I'm doing this even though the council has declined to approve the book," she said.

A Christmas theme and decorations from local merchants provided by the Christian Church and entertainment was by St. John Church. On the program were the Surber Singers and Players, and a skit entitled "The Famous

All of the guests, grouped by school or service, participated in the skit. The Christian Church, offered the closing prayer.

Harlan Family Receives Card From President

Slightly late, but a most welcome addition to the Christmas card collection at the home of the Ray Harlan family is one inscribed with the U.S. presidential seal and signed by President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The card, which shows the White House and grounds, was received Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harlan, who live at 130 Rose avenue, near Bend road.

Mrs. Harlan reports that no one in her family is active in politics and described receiving the card as a gracious gesture in return for one sent by the family to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and their daughter.

Speeding Charge Filed

Donald Roy Schatz, St. Louis, was arrested Monday on Nameoki road on a speeding charge. He was summoned to appear in court Jan. 8.

$301 to Fix Fire Chief Car Damaged in Wreck

Repairs to the Granite City fire chief's car damaged in an accident on Madison avenue last week when two parked cars were hit near the hospital, were approved Monday night by the council. The low figure was from Ron Sandson Auto Body shop with $301. Other estimates were $394 by Matthews Chevrolet and $438 by 18th Street Garage.

Also approved was a $70 figure submitted by Alles Auto Repair shop for repairs to the parked auto owned by John Kravak, county auditor. No figure was available for the second parked auto, it was reported.

Backs Into Parked Car

As A. C. Stover, 270 State street, backed his car out of his driveway at 7:30 p.m. Monday, it struck a car owned by Marjorie Fichter, 2505 Madison avenue, which was parked across the street. There was slight damage to her car.

employment in the U.S. in 1965. Companies and regions seriously affected by the loss of "conventional" defense work will shift to meet the rapid changes due to our system of defense during the next few years.

9. Our Defense Department, under Secretary McNamara's leadership, will increase efforts in 1965 to produce new super-weapons; it is realized there will be no Maginot or other future wars. Control of space will be the new aim in defense.

10. Intensified emphasis on new space-age defenses will provide more jobs in 1965 than the closing down of obsolete installations will eliminate.

Stock Market Paradox

11. The stock market may continue to be a paradox in 1965. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average may push to 1000 before any real turn-around takes place.

12. The important automobile industry should post another excellent sales year in 1965, but the gains will be harder to come by.

13. The powerful building and construction sectors should prove a strong support to general business during 1965... even though we foresee no marked improvement. Some gain in dollar volume will be largely due to higher costs. Apartment building has been overdone in some sections and a breathing spell is logical.

14. No assessment of finances in the United States can be made without carefully weighing But-cutting and efforts to raise productivity.

More Business Failures

25. Because of rising expenses and competition, there will be further increases in failures to succeed in 1965.

26. As a result of automobile strikes in late 1964 and the fear of a possible strike in 1965, the business world for a bulge in business volume during the first half of 1965.

27. In 1965, business should make new all-time highs in early 1965; after midyear, a temporary decline may follow, but 1965 will set another new record.

28. Following the strike interruptions of late 1964, personal income should move sharply ahead to new highs in the first half of 1965... although the rate of advance will slow after midyear.

Retail Trade

29. This projected rise in income will be beneficial to retail trade. After buying in the second quarter may be dampened by heavy income-tax payments due Uncle Sam on April 15.

30. The important automobile industry should post another excellent sales year in 1965, but the gains will be harder to come by.

31. The powerful building and construction sectors should prove a strong support to general business during 1965... even though we foresee no marked improvement. Some gain in dollar volume will be largely due to higher costs.

32. Overextension of credit and overambitious operators have put the real estate market in a bind in many metropolitan areas. We strongly advise caution in making new sales, especially in commercial real estate where a thin equity exists.

Real Estate Prospects Vary

33. However, even if scarcer than in recent years, there will still be opportunities for selective purchases of real estate in 1965. Your locality is a law unto itself. Know your area and study the direction of growth.

34. Nonfarm real estate foreclosures are increasing in an upward trend during 1965. This should be particularly true in regions where overbuilding of speculative homes has taken place and where outbreaks in defense spending cause local distress.

35. Prospective farmland that lends itself to mechanization will not decline in price in 1965. Rising costs of farm equipment make it necessary for operators to cultivate ever-larger spreads. This trend is maintaining the demand for fertile acreage in the farm belt.

36. As 1965 begins, prices for agricultural products are generally well above their lows for 1964. Unless severe widespread drought intervenes, we look for no more than seasonal strength in agricultural prices during the year. In world markets, we see no any near-term important upturning forces on the farm.

Record Living Costs

37. The situation in industrial commodity prices is somewhat different. With business heating higher in the first half and with labor costs scaling new peaks, industrial commodity prices, with some exceptions, will push upward at least during the coming six months.

38. Living costs will also rise to new all-time highs. And since President Johnson is committed to getting Medicare passed at this session of Congress, look for hospital and doctors' fees to spurt before the end of 1965.

39. Even with federal income taxes already slated to drop a notch next year, and with prospective excellent tax excise taxes will be cut, relieving should be restrained by the knowledge that local taxes will take another upward turn. Social security levies will rise again... even faster after the 89th Congress enacts Medicare.

40. Climbing capital goods outlays will be one of the brightest spots for 1965. Gains over this year could run as high as 10%.

Foreign Steel Imports

41. Further progress in United States exports will be harder to achieve in the coming year. Certainly, if the steel labor outlook improves had by mid-spring, heavy imports of foreign steel may be resorted to by U.S. businessmen. This would result in a narrowing of our favorable trade balance and have a further adverse impact on the U.S. international balance of payments.

42. Although we are not forecasting runaway inflation for 1965, we do feel that attempts to keep money easy in this country, in the face of a world-wide trend toward tighter credit, will greatly increase the danger of an inflationary blunder. Conditions remind us of the late 1920s when the Federal Reserve kept credit cheap and plentiful to support the British pound. Hence, the eventual collapse.

hope came from an even more dangerous level.

Funds set for these purchases are $6000, $250,000 and $150,000.

47. Ascendancy of the African and Asian nations to position of control in the United Nations will force the United States in 1965 to take up a new vital sphere of influence.
